Dear Mrs. Strickland,

I thought perhaps you might enjoy seeing how far we've come in our genealogy research much of it with help from people like yourself who have been kind enough to spend hrs. sending us material. We don't have all our lines documented but we are slowly adding that (it's expensive as you are aware --)

My brother, Arnold Bucky is researching the Parker lines. We have written hundreds of letters but it does work - just before Christmas I received two letters <sup>one</sup> on the Griffis line one on the Sylvestre line (which was hard - my first connection there) both letters were a fruitful harvest for both parties. I had not done any research for a while but this week I've made up for a year's worth.

I am now trying to get information on the Davis line we have and something about Harlston Miss. After looking at this updated Tree can you offer me any new info. -- perhaps there's some here for you - Just write at your convenience if

THE PIERCE FAMILY

The following biographies of Randall Huckaby and John Watley Pierce were compiled by Jackie Ratcliffe. The information was obtained from various court house records.

RANDALL HUCKABY PIERCE

Randall Huckaby Pierce was born on the 27th of April 1769, probably in Dublin, Ireland. It is unknown when he arrived in America, but he settled in Maryland. He married Mary Watley ca 1788. Mary was born in Scotland on the 29th of February 1770. He was in Burke County, Ga. by 1789. Sometime between 1813 and 1815, he and his family, his bachelor brother, John Pierce, along with the Bailey Loven family and Sandy Slay and William Bert who were single, migrated to Mississippi. They first settled on Silver Creek in Lawrence Co. Ms. Randall was a planter. In 1824, while living in Lawrence Co. Ms. he deeded to his two minor children the following: To Martha, he left one feather bed and furniture, one young red horse and one half of his household and kitchen furniture and to his son, James M., he left one black mare and colt, one feather bed and furniture, two cows and yearlings, all his stock hogs, eight head of fat hogs, one hundred and fifty bushels of corn and the other half of his household and kitchen furniture, his rifle, gun and the plantation he then lived on, along with all working tools. At the time of this deed, Martha was 14 and James was 12 years of age. All of the other children were grown and married and probably had already been given their legacy. Later, Randall moved west of the Pearl River and settled on Big Bahalia Creek, at that time located in Copiah Co. and after 1870 in Lincoln Co. Ms. He and his wife spent thier last days near their daughter Mary Furr. Mary died on the 10th of November 1852 and Randall died on the 30th of August 1853. Both are buried in the Henry Furr Cemetery, east of Wesson, Ms.

James died ca 1881 and is buried in the Appleton Pierce Cemetery in Lincoln Co. Ms. He had five children by his first wife and one by his second and none by his third.

WE DESCEND THRU JOHN WATLEY PIERCE

JOHN WATLEY PIERCE

John Watley Pierce, 6th child of Randall H. Pierce was born on the 20th of July 1804 in Georgia. He married Malinda Loven, daughter of Bailey Loven who traveled with Randall Pierce from Georgia to Mississippi. Bailey purchased property in Section 5, Township 7, Range 9 East in Lawrence Co. Ms. Malinda's mother sold this property in 1838 to Isaac Smith, father-in-law of Malinda's sister, Elizabeth who had married Lott Smith.

John purchased land in Lawrence Co. (now Lincoln Co.) Ms. in 1836 in Sections 14 and 11. In 1854, he purchased additional land in Section 11. Much of the land in Section 11 was sold to E. E. March in 1863 and 1865, which included the homesite. In 1955, the homesite was owned by C. L. Burgess and his wife. Mr. Burgess' wife was grand-daughter of Lott and Elizabeth Loven Smith. In 1866, they moved from Lawrence Co. to Copiah Co. where he purchased land in Section 18, 19 and 24, which now lies NW of Brookhaven, Ms. This section became Lincoln County in 1870.

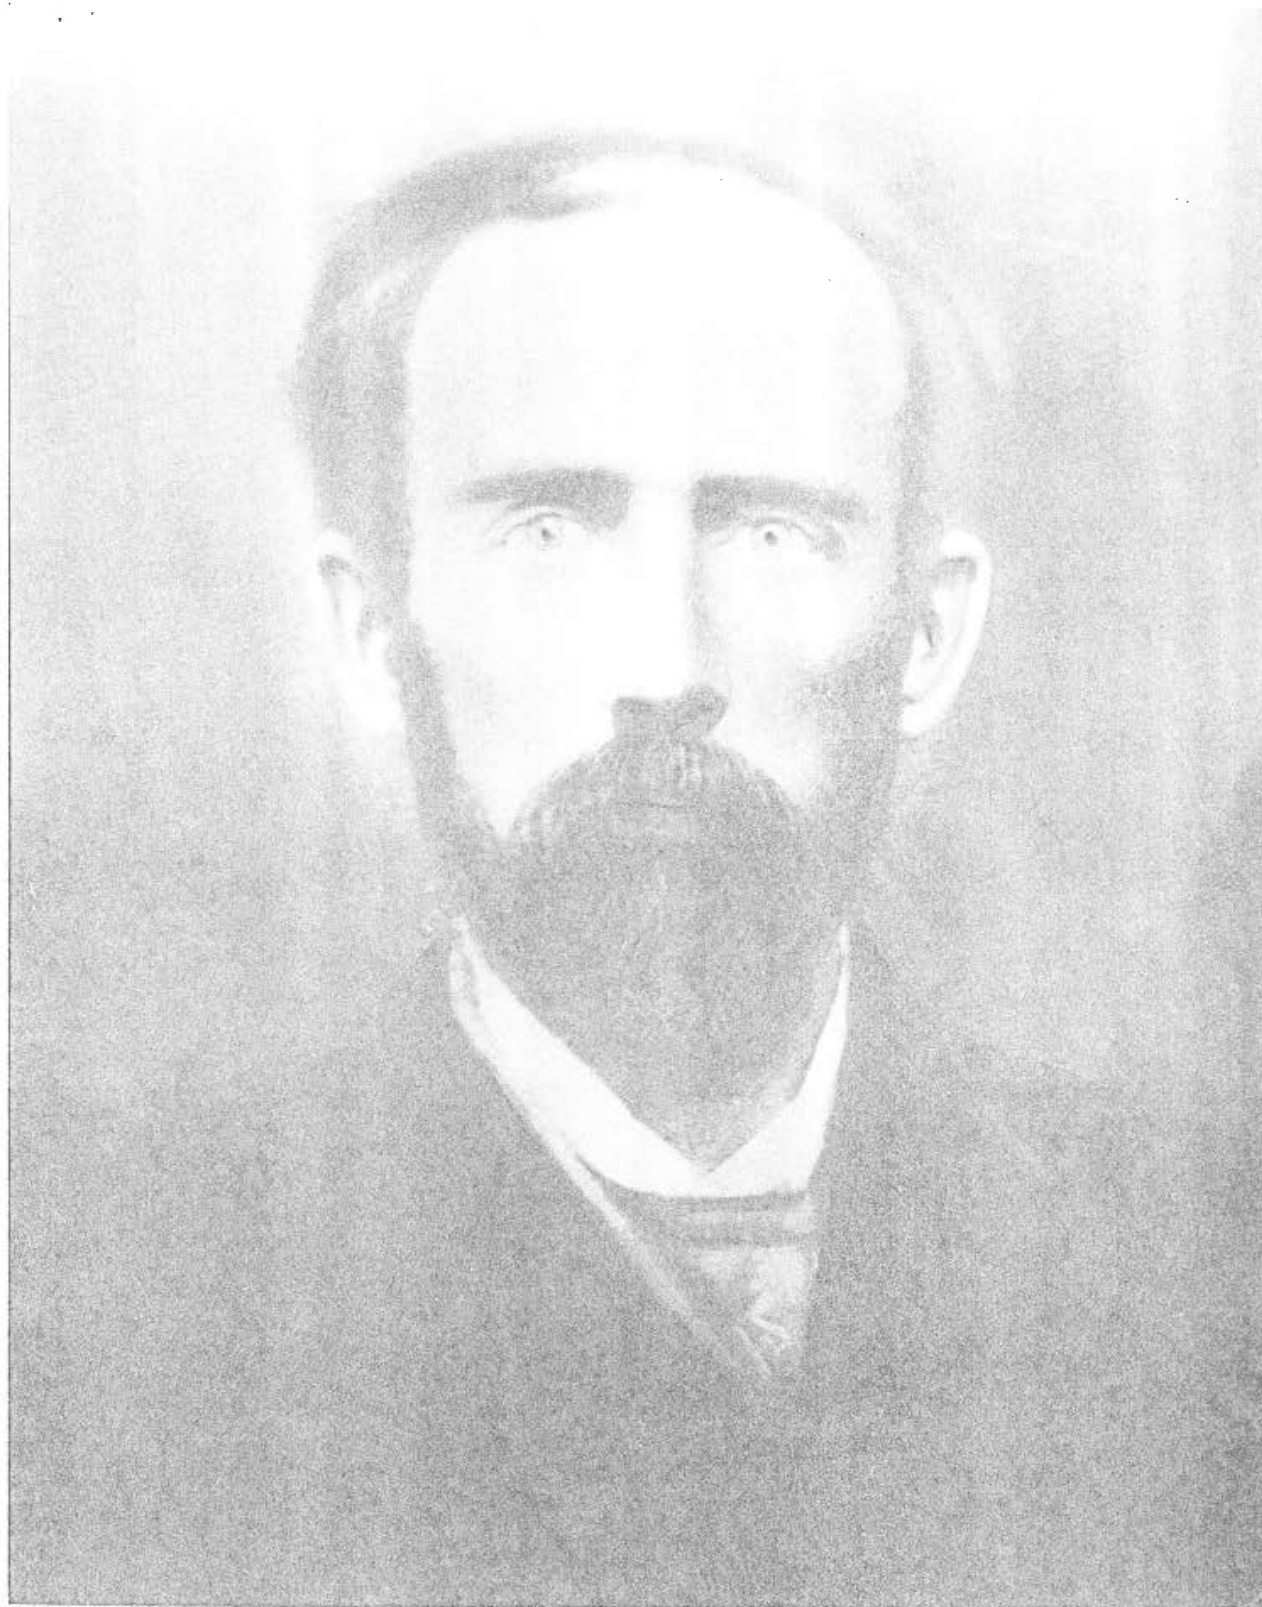

John bought his farm on Bayou Pierre about 4 miles northwest of Brookhaven. On it stood a log house with several rooms of lumber added. It was later that he built a large two story residence which he sold with the farm for $11,000.00 to a man from the north. The northerner lived there only two or three years. The Yankee was very unpopular with the locals because of his association with negroes. It is said that he had several negro women to eat at the dinner table with him. The white residence made it so uncomfortable for him that he sold out and moved to Natchez. The big house burned the first year after the close of the Civil War.

John registered his cattle brand in Copiah Co. Ms. on the 17th of July 1854 which was "upper slope and underbit in each ear."

APPENDIX 1. Line of Descendants.

Randall Huckaby is the earliest Pierce of this line that we have been able to identify. He was born in 1769. Family tradition indicates that he came to the United States from Ireland when he was about 17 years of age, which would have put it about 1786. Research through the Genealogical Office in Dublin has not located him. The U. S. Census of 1850, (Lawrence County, Mississippi), lists his place of birth as North Carolina. There is no way to be certain that either is right. Tradition and the early census takers were quite subject to error. In any case, he was married to Mary Watley, who was supposedly born in Scotland in 1770. Date of the marriage is uncertain but was about 1789.

The following is a list of their known descendants, with particular reference to the L. A. Pierce, Sr. line. It has been reconstructed from old family records, the census and word-of-mouth. It is naturally subject to error.

I have spent much time of my own, in addition to a certain amount of professional research, in an attempt to discover something about his background before he came to this country. I have not been able to locate any information concerning his life before he came to this country.

My first reaction to hearing that he came from Ireland was to wonder what an Englishman was doing there in the Eighteenth Century, since Pierce is unquestionably of English origin. Fredric Beech Pierce in his PIERCE GENEALOGY, written in 1882, gives the following possible clue:

"There was one branch of the Pierce family which went into Ireland from England during the reign of Queen Elizabeth. This branch went from Northumberland County, England. Several of the members were soldiers with Oliver Cromwell and went with him to Ireland in 1649 and settled at Glencanny on Hillywater two miles from Enniskillen and the farm upon which they located is still in possession of the family, owned and occupied by William Pierce Esq. / Seven members of this family were in the Battle of the Boyne in 1690. Four or five were members of the celebrated Enniskillen Dragoons. / The family were members of the Church of England." /

It's interesting to speculate if this was really Randall's family and if so, why he decided to come to America. I'm not sure that we'll ever know, but at least we have no better explanation.

I have tried on two separate occasions to locate some facts on him through the Genealogical Office in Dublin. Some general information on the Pierce name, obtained from the Chief Herald, is included in the Appendix. There is nothing that definitely identifies Randall.

In any case, Randall found himself in either the Carolinas or Georgia in the latter part of the Eighteenth Century, undoubtedly a very exciting time and place for a young man. I have been able to find only one record that seems to refer to him during this period. On a Georgia list of tax defaulters (Burke County, issue of October 30, 1790), is listed a Randall Pierce. The time and place are right. It was probably him. According to Mr. Folks Huxford, editor of the Georgia Genealogical Magazine, such lists were required by law to show persons who had paid taxes in the County during the previous year but not for the current year. Obviously this could mean a number of different things, including the possibility that he couldn't afford to pay or that he had moved elsewhere. This does seem to locate him in Burke County in 1789 however.

Rightly or wrongly, the English had been kicked out of the country and here was a vast rich land to settle and defend. He married a Scotch lass by the name of Mary Watley and set about doing his part, including increasing the population. We have no date of the birth of his first child, a girl named Delilah, but the second one, Catherine, was born in January 1792. It seems reasonable to assume that the marriage took place about 1789. If Randall came to the U.S. in 1786, he had been here only 3 years then when he married. This would have made him 20 and Mary 19 at the time of the marriage.

There are many unanswered questions about their early life and there is no available Census records from which to glean even a few meager facts. The first Census had been ordered by the Congress to take place in 1790 and each ten years thereafter. You see, the British didn't stay out. They came back in the War of 1812 and burned the Capitol at Washington, together with most of the early Census records, including those of Burke County.

So, the first time we find Randall listed in the Census is in 1820 -- and by that time all of his children have been born and he is living in Lawrence County Mississippi. The 1820 Census didn't tell much. As the years went by more and more information has been included, but that one was only the fourth one that had been taken of this new country and there was much to be learned. All three of the earlier ones for the entire State of Georgia are missing for one reason or another. So this first one to identify Randall and his family are welcome material even though limited. It was handwritten and after 140 years appears very badly faded and difficult to read. It shows Randall as the head of a family consisting of Mary and three children. The other five children were undoubtedly out on their own by this time. It is of interest to note the following totals for Lawrence County:

|-------------------------|------|
| Free White Males.....   | 2454 |
| Free White Females..... | 1683 |
| Free Colored Males..... | 6    |
| Free Colored Females... | 2    |
| Slave Males.....        | 531  |
| Slave Females.....      | 456  |

It appears from the indicated ages that the three children still with Mary and Randall in 1820 were John Watley, born in 1804, Martha, born in 1810, and James Mitchell, born in 1812. It seems likely that all eight of the children were born before the family left Georgia.

It's easier to imagine young people as pioneers than old ones. Usually their health is better, the

The Pearce Ancestry

Pearce Ancestry

There were thirteen Pearce brothers who originally lived in Virginia. They were described as very large in physique - averaging six feet in height and about 200 pounds in weight.

Thomas Pearce, our great grandfather, came to Miss. by way of the Carolina's. He married a Hartfield and settled on Pearce's Creek.

The Hartfields lived in New York. They were said to have been very wealthy. When the parents died, an attempt was made to locate the estate. The relatives in Miss. raised a sum of money and hired a Captain Carter from Hattiesburg to go to New York and investigate and locate members of the family and the estate. He came back and reported that he could not find any record of the Hartfields or estate.

Thomas Pearce met Andrew Jackson when he brought a company of his soldiers on his way to New Orleans in 1812 to Black Creek, crossing it near his home. Later he named one of his sons for him. This son was our grandfather Andrew Jackson Pearce.

The Thomas Pearce's had eight children. They were:

Jim, who married Barbara Fairley. They settled on Pearces Creek. He had a grist mill and a saw mill.
Bill, who married Lula Ulmer. They lived in Jasper County, and later in Harrison County.
Will, who married Polly Perkins, sister of Ben Perkins, a well known farmer in this area.
George, a grist mill on Pearce's Creek.
Levi, who married Catherine Fairley and settled in Jasper County.
Jackson, who married Virginia Breland. They settled on Black Creek (our grandparents)
Two daughters whose names are not remembered. One married a Weldy. Many of the Pearce s are buried in Fairley Cemetery on Whiskey Creek in Perry County.

The sons and daughters of Jackson and Virginia Pearce, our grandparents, were:

Joseph T. Breland

Born 23 August 1803 probably in Beaufort District, St. Peters Parish South Carolina. Very likely the son of Absolum (1) who was born before 1765 in Pitt County, North Carolina and grandson of Abraham Breeler or Breland who was born circa 1725-30. Joseph's mother and grandmother are as of now unknown. Joseph died on 03 August 1868.

Married prior to 1825 to Sarah Cecelia _____ born 09 July 1804 also probably in Beaufort District, St. Peters Parish, South Carolina. She was thought to be a Breland cousin by Joseph's oldest daughters' family. Sarah Cecelia died 16 August 1894 and is buried with her husband in S10 T1N R10W called the Thomas Cemetery, located in Perry County, Ms. located off the highway 29, near Janice Mississippi.

Joseph first appears in Mississippi in the Perry County Tax rolls in 1827, then steadily throughout a period through 1847. The rolls listed him with 200-220 cattle by 1843. The 1860 slave schedule for Perry County lists him with 14 slaves, up from 2 in 1843. The 1860 census shows him with a personal estate valued at $21,000.00 and real estate worth at least $1500.00. The family homestead was 80 acres on the Black Creek in Perry County, although 80 acres on Cypress Creek may have been purchased for one of his children.

In the History of George County, Ms., Vol I, on page 52, Joseph is mentioned as a member of the famous Fall session Grand Jury who on September 18, 1855 indicted James Copeland for highway robbery. Copeland was a figure surrounded by great passion as he robbed and destroyed much property prior to the Civil War. Copeland was hung on October 29, 1857 in Augusta, Perry County, Ms. Those involved with his trial in any manner were considered hercs in the community. Joseph was considered a power in his county with this connection and a leading Democrat as shown by the notice in the Eastern Clarion newspaper on April 27, 1859 when a meeting for the Democratic Black Creek Beat was held at the home of J. T. Breland.

Joseph appeared in the Federal Census for Perry County Ms., beginning in 1830 and every decade thereafter until his death prior to 1870. The following is a list of the known children of Joseph T. and Sarah Cecelia:

1. Josiah - buried in the Fairley Cemetery
2. Elizabeth Virginia Breland Pearce - buried in the Wash Mixon Cemetery
3. Melinda Breland Martin Riley - buried in the Brooklyn Cemetery

NOTE.—When the certificate is transferred, it must be in the hands of the transferee, by a transferee and holder. If it is not, or by some other reputable person, well known to the transferee.

Given in duplicate at Camp Run, this 14 day of May, 1862.

WINTERST Upforster

Outfitted for Discharge
I, J. H. Morgan, a private in Capt W. H. Morgan's Company, 10th of the 2nd Regiment Mississippi Rifles, was enlisted by me at St. Louis, Mo. at Shiloh, Miss on the 1st day of September 1861 to serve one year. he was born in the State of Mass - is 40 years of age - five feet and seven inches high - dark complexion - dark eyes - dark hair and by occupation when enlisted an ironer.

During the last two months said soldier has been for sixty to seventy days, and is entitled to a discharge by reason of a severe attack of pneumonia followed by pneumonia.

W. H. Morgan
Commanding Company

Camp Meigs La. May 15th 1862.

I certify that I have carefully examined the said Pierce of Capt W. H. Morgan's Company and find him incapable of performing the duties of a soldier because of Rheumatism depriving him of the use of his limbs to considerable extent.
From the statements of the applicant and others familiar with his former life, he has suffered frequently with Rheumatism for several years. His present attack appears to have immediately followed a severe attack of pneumonia.

L. M. Doyle Acting Surgeon
3rd Regt. Miss Vol. E. 1862.

Dear Mrs. Cunningham:

I was pleased to receive your letter of 11 November 1995 requesting information on the Pearce/Pierce family. Most of my research is centered around the Thomas and Jarusha (Hartfield) Pearce family which settled in Perry County, Mississippi in 1809. They are my great, great, great grandparents on my mother's side. Thomas was born in North Carolina in 1785 and Jerusha in South Carolina in 1797. Any information concerning their parents, brothers and sisters would be greatly appreciated.

Concerning your Jesse Hardy and Harriet Elizabeth (Williams) Pierce, I believe that Jesse's parents are Seaborne and Bedeanne Pearce. Based on the information you sent; eg: Jesse, born 1825 in Alabama; Harriet, daughter of Aquilla & Harriet (Doice) Williams, living in Newton County, Mississippi, 1850 and 60, etc..

I looked at Newton and surrounding county records and came up with the following:

1830 CENSUS: JONES COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI

Williams, Aquilla 00100/11000
(Aquilla (30), Harriet (20), and Harriet E. (1)).

Pearce, Seaborne (1) - not listed by this name - (Seaborne (2) was in Georgia until 1840 but not listed in Census Index by this name.)

Newton County, Mississippi did not exist until created from the lower part of Neshoba County, Mississippi in 1836. Neshoba County was formed along with others in 1833 following the Treaty of Dancing Rabbit Creek in 1830; (see enclosed maps). Prior to 1830, this was Indian Territory. Since Seaborne (1) does not appear in the 1820 nor 1830 Mississippi, Alabama or Georgia Census Indexes, he may have been living in Indian Territory at this time.

1840 CENSUS: NEWTON COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI

Aqually Williams 2100100000000/0210110000000 (Aquilla (40), Harvey (10), Hiram (4), and John (2).
Harriet (30), Harriet E. (10), Mary (8), Caroline (6) and unknown female (40-50)).

Pierce Family

Seiburn (1) Pearce 2011100100000/0110100000000

(Seaborne (50-60), Seaborne (27), Jesse (15), Benjamin (14) and Seaborne (2)'s two sons, James (3) and Andrew (2); Seaborne (2)'s wife and daughter: Susanah (23) and Mary (5) and an unknown female (10-15).

This could be Bedeanne, under the wrong column or Seaborne (2) and Jesse's sister. Bedeanne would be 58 years old.

Seiburn is the only Pearce/Pierce living in Newton County, Mississippi and is living near Aqually Williams.

Jesse Hardy Pearce and Harriet Elizabeth Williams were married in Newton County, Mississippi, ca 1847. The elder Seaborne is not present after the 1840 census.

1841 (or about) STATE CENSUS: NEWTON COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI

Aquala Williams - 5 males - 4 females
(Aquilla (41), Harvey (11), Hiram (5), John (3) and Franklin (1); Harriet (31), Harriet E. (11), Mary (9) and Caroline (7)).

Ceburn (2) Pearce - 3 males - 2 females
(Seaborne (28), James (5) and Andrew (4); Susana (24) and Mary (7)).

Bedeanne, Jesse and his sister are somewhere else.

1845 STATE CENSUS: NEWTON COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI

Equilla Williams - 6 males - 4 females
(Aquilla (45), Harvey (15), Hiram (9), John (7), Franklin (5) and George (1); Harriet (35), Harriet E. (14), Mary (13) and Caroline (11)).

Seaburn (2) Pearce - 4 males - 6 females
(Seaborne (32), James (8), Andrew (7) and Jesse (20); Bedeanne (63), Susanah (28), Mary (10), Bedeanne (4), Laney (2) and an unknown female (?), probably Seaborne and Jesse's youngest sister, age 15-20.)

Much of this is speculation on my part, but I feel that it is well founded and will point you in the right direction. If birth records are correct, I would look for this family in North and South Carolina about 1790-1810, Georgia from 1810-1820. Alabama about 1820-1830, Mississippi and Texas 1830-1860, Louisiana about 1870 and Texas and Louisiana thereafter. Good hunting.

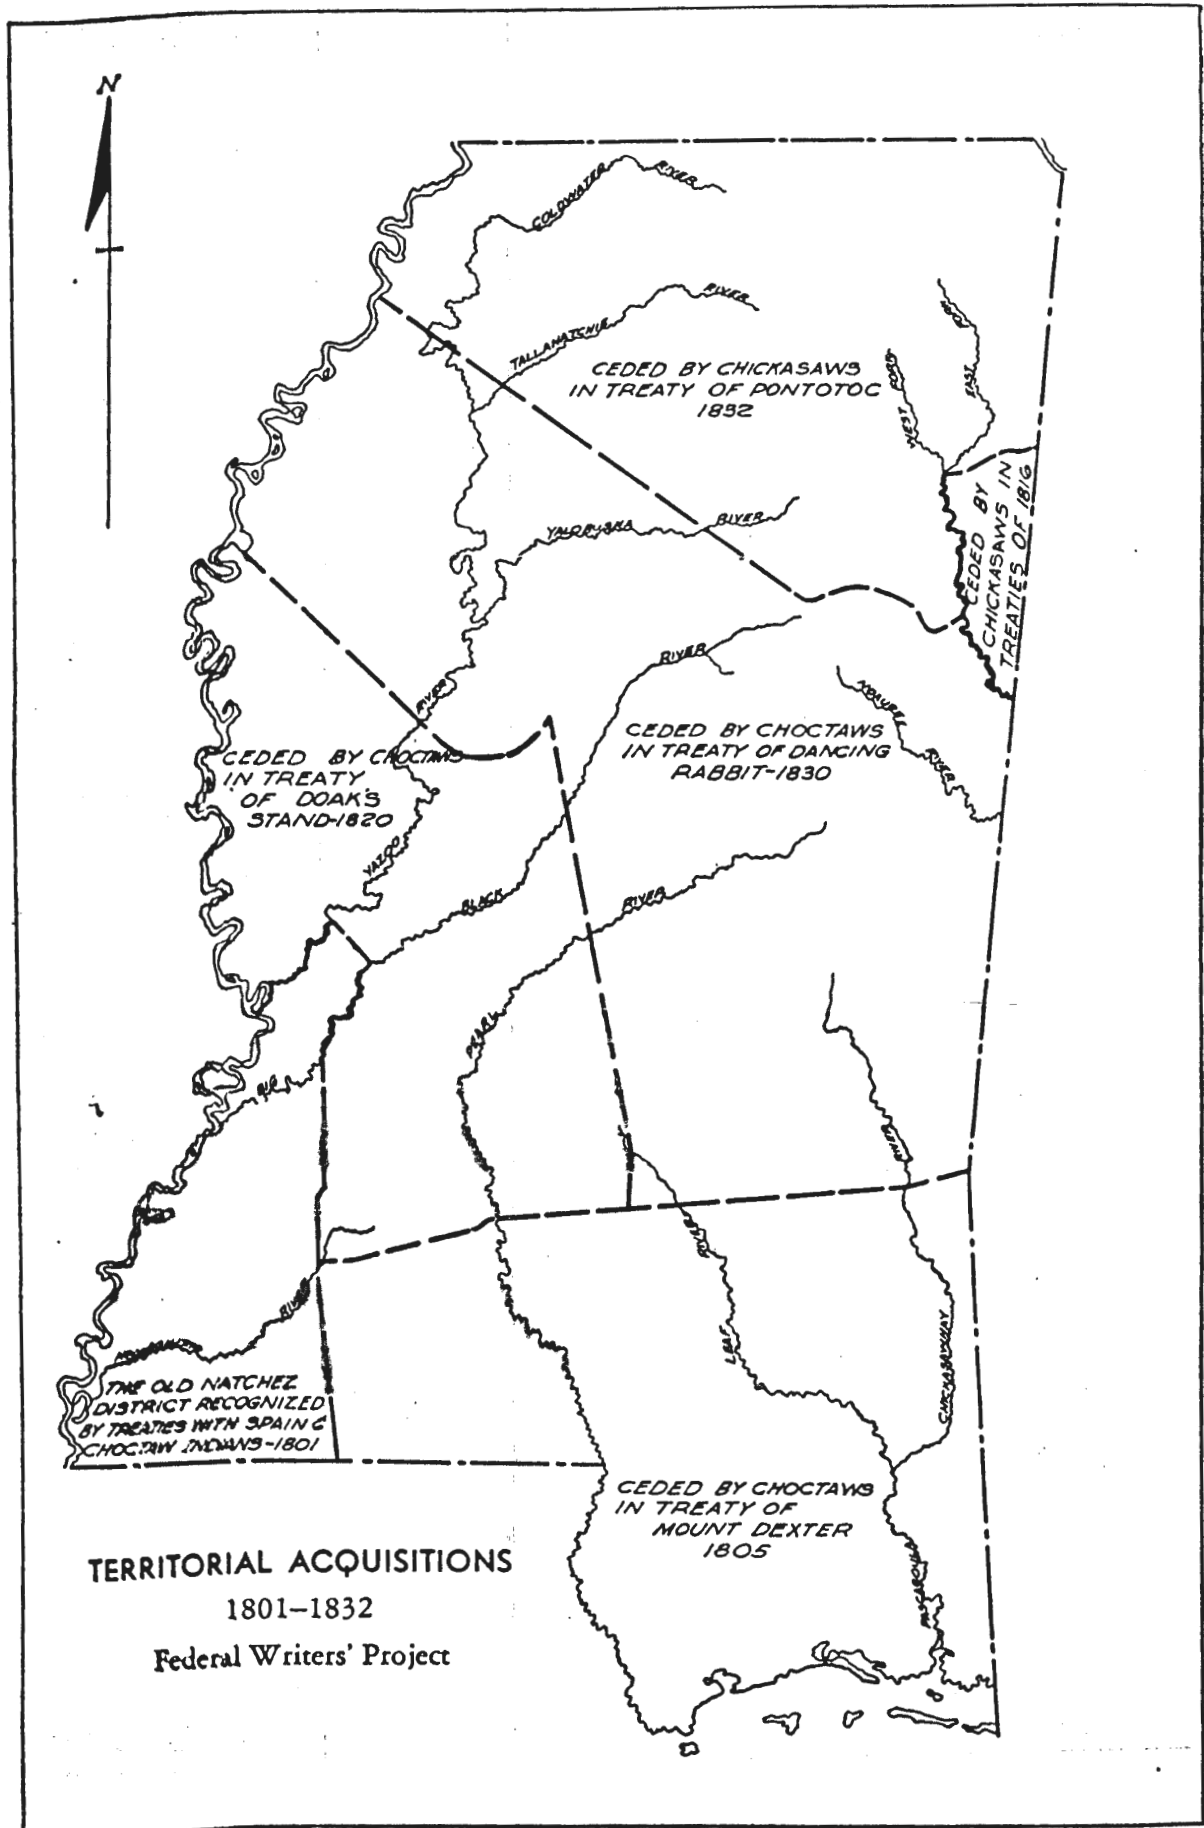

Sincerely,

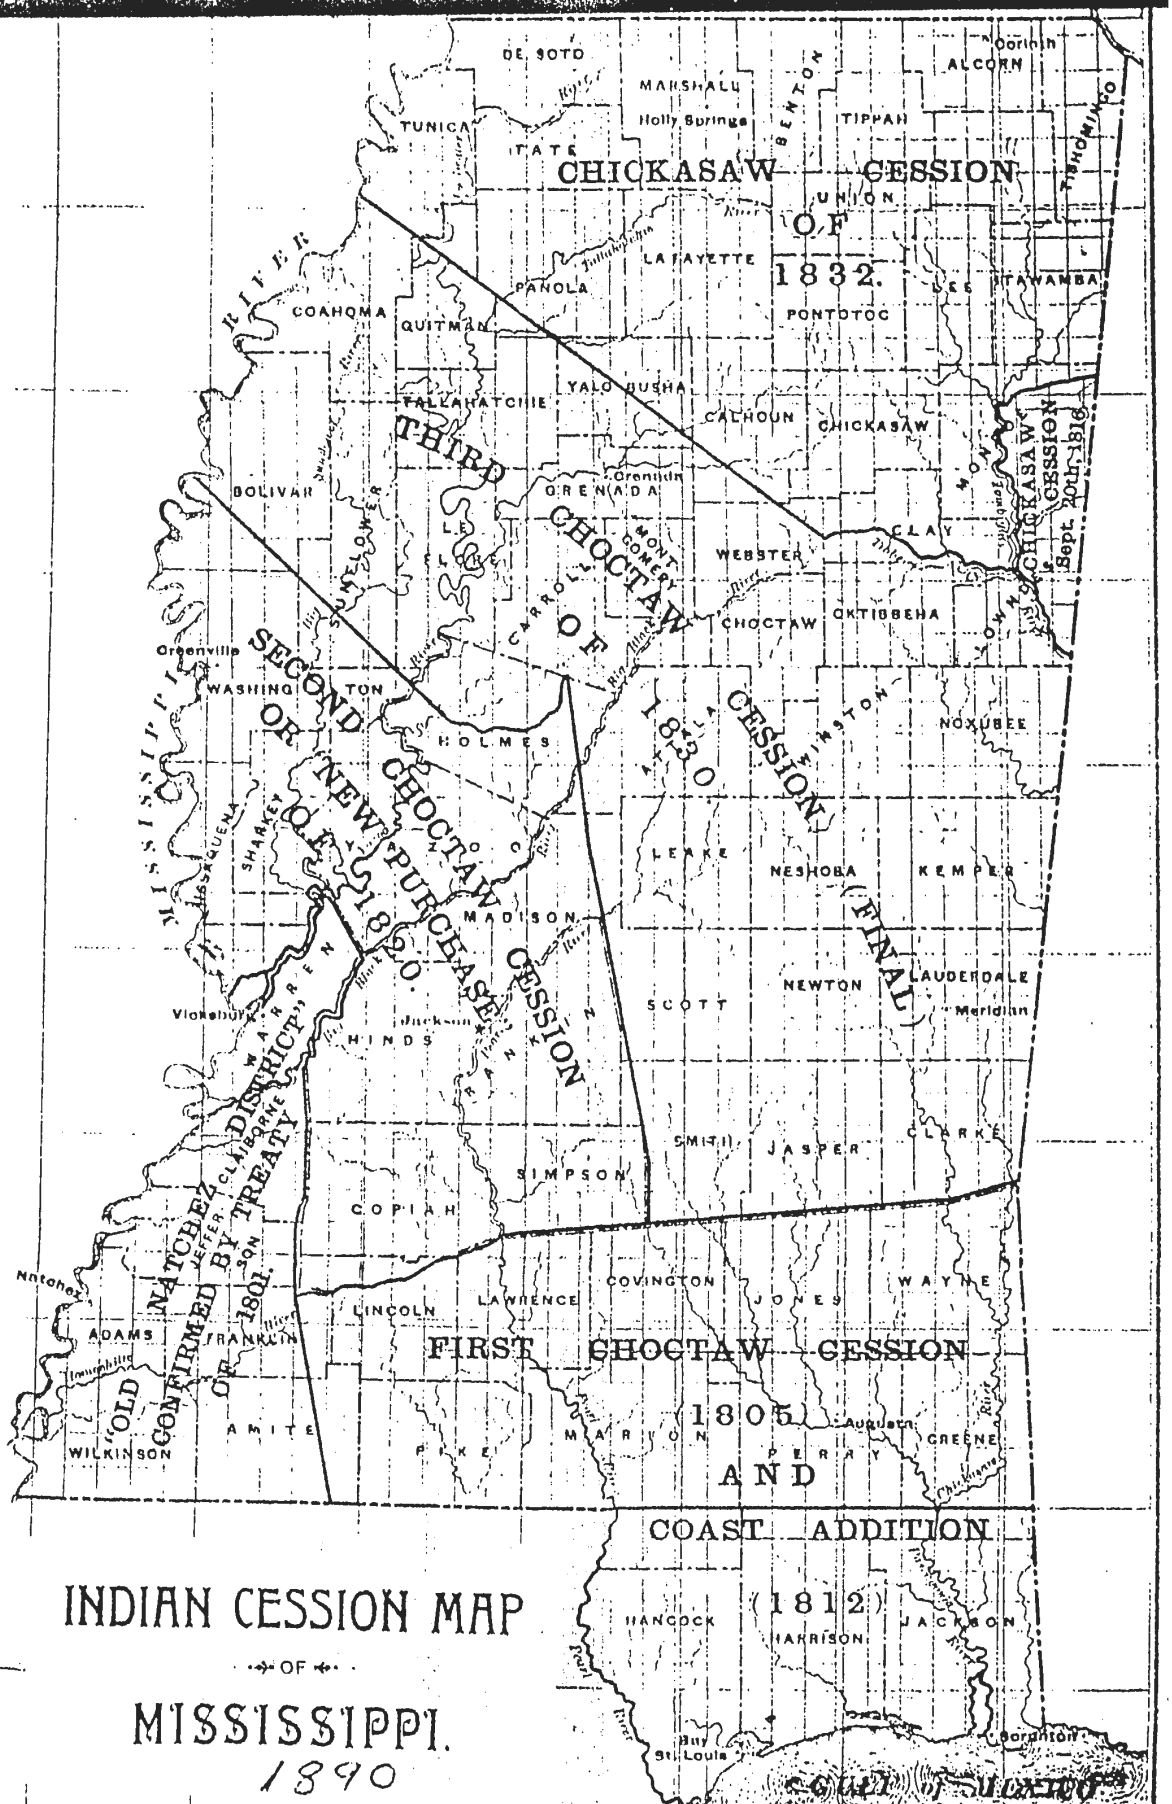

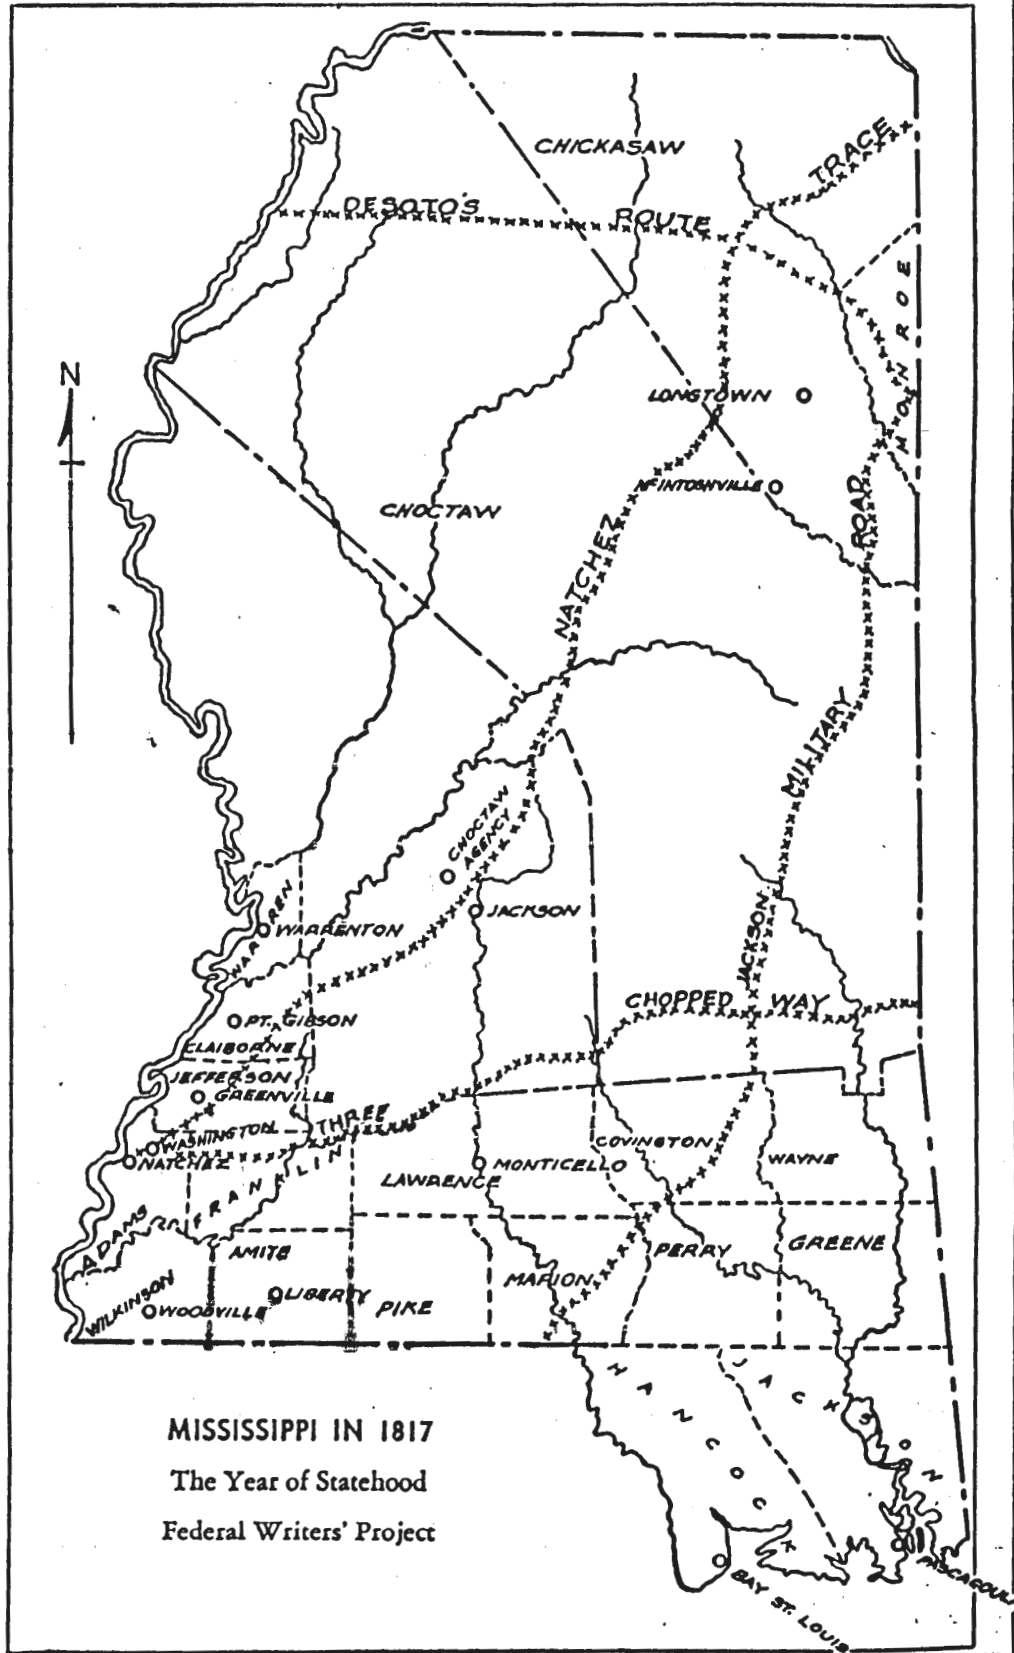

Don R. Rainey
Son of Blanche Katherine (Pearce)

Pierce-Hembree vows pledged in Tanner chapel

TANNER-WILLIAMS — Tonya Eileen Pierce became the bride of Donald Eugene Hembree during a ceremony in Tanner Chapel Church with the Rev. Owen Miller officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Clark Pierce Sr. of Harleston and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Eugene Hembree of Agricola.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride was attended by Mrs. Sandra Showles of Agricola, sister of the bridegroom, as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Lynda Dean of Agricola and Miss Sedeania Bryant of Lucedale. Regina Pierce of Harleston attended her sister as junior bridesmaid.

Attendants wore spring dresses of yellow with matching hats. Ronald Hembree served his twin brother as best man. Groomsmen and ushers were Dwight Showles of Agricola, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; Preston L. Pierce Jr. and James Pierce, brothers of the bride; Chris Hembree, brother of the bridegroom, and James Shepard.

Flower girls were Angie Goldman of Moss Point and Erika Mayfield of Mobile, Ala. Ringbearers were Donald Ray Hilbun of Rocky Creek and Kenny Cook of Agricola.

A reception followed the ceremony, held in the reception hall of the church. Melissa Hinton presided over the bride's register.

Mrs. Karen Pierce, sister-in-law of the bride, served wedding cake and the bridegroom's cake was served by Margaret Carter of Hurley.

Purich was poured by Patty Pierce of Harleston and Mrs. Debbie Hembree of Agricola. Rice girls were Stacy and Tracy Tanner of Harleston.

Following a honeymoon in Panama City, Fla., the couple is at home in Agricola.

On the eve of the wedding, the parents of the bridegroom hosted a rehearsal supper for members of the nuptial party.

LOCAL NEWS

SCRANTON, MISS.,
FRIDAY, AUGUST 24, 1906.

AN EARNEST APPEAL TO OUR PATRONS.

The editor and proprietor of the DEMOCRAT-STAR by the failure of the Scranton State Bank is in need of money to pay his office expenses, and will have to rely principally on the outstanding good debts due the paper which are from two to three thousand dollars on subscription and advertising, the half of which if paid within next thirty days will place us in easy circumstances until the chancery court meets and the affairs of the bank are put in proper shape so we will know when we will get what the bank owes us. This appeal applies to delinquent subscribers and advertisers at home and abroad, on land or on sea.

Now, all who know about what they owe us, we hope each and every one will send some money on account, and when they do receipts will be forwarded promptly. All we ask is a "square deal."

Do we appeal in vain for what is justly due us?

Respectfully,

P. K. MAYERS,

Sheriff W. P. Ramsay, who is recuperating at Asheville, N. C., is expected home by September 1st. His health has been somewhat improved and his many friends wish him a speedy restoration.

An enjoyable dance was given at the residence of Captain and Mrs. J. Bonomo, on Washington street, by Miss Carrie Cogkins and their friends of Scranton, Pascagoula, Moss Point and Mobile.

A new hotel on the Beach would be a move in the right direction. Such a magnificent body of water as the Pascagoula Bay should be lined with fine hotels and handsome winter and summer homes.

Parents who fail to accord a cordial and substantial support to any educational enterprise in their community deal a blow to the mental and moral development of their children, the evil effect of which can never be eradicated or repaired.

Last Saturday night a rare spectacle was viewed along the beach, but more especially at the east end, where the big waves came tumbling in through the pass before the high wind, each billow crested with an unusually strong phosphorescent light. The changing beauty of the spectacle was one to be remembered.

A CARD TO THE PUBLIC.

I am informed that a rumor set afloat with the many rumors about the affairs of the recent bank failure, is to the effect that I had withdrawn monies of myself and family before the failure. My friends who have felt any concern on the subject know this is not true, but it is but fair to the public, as well as my friends to state the facts, as the books of the bank will show. As for myself, I had a larger deposit at the time of the failure than I usually kept, every cent of which was left untouched. That sum, all the money I had on hand at the time, was $852.00. My wife had a deposit of $45.70, besides $27.75 savings deposit. Mrs. Reeder, my wife's widowed sister, had a general deposit of $104.00, and $55.23 in the savings department. Miss M. B. Edmunds, niece of my wife, and an orphan, had a deposit of $70. In addition to this the stock, held by these same members of my family, and myself, purchased in good faith and paid for in cash, all more or less above par, is as follows: Myself, 25 shares at $50 par value each; Mrs. Mayers, 32 shares; Mrs. Reeder, 40 shares; Miss Edmunds, 20 shares. This is our loss and our faith.

Respectfully submitted,

TO MY FRIENDS, CUSTOMERS AND THE GENERAL PUBLIC.

Orange Grove, Miss., Aug. 21, 1906.
To the DEMOCRAT-STAR,
Scranton, Miss.

Greeting:
After seven years' hard work, both mental and physical, trying to establish a general merchandise business at Orange Grove, Miss., a business that would enable me to give my customers a few days credit and hold my head above the tide, I find now, owing to unforeseen circumstances, and financial losses, that unless I adopt the strictly CASH system, that I shall, in the very near future, become a bankrupt, pure and simple. I am sorry to be compelled to adopt this rule, but it is the only salvation I see to save myself from ruin in a business sense. I do hope that no one will feel offended. I shall in the future mark the goods I sell to the very lowest possible price consistent with a margin of the smallest possible profit. I solicit the trade of every one, and will do my best to treat all men, women and children fair and square.

V. B. PIERCE.

"Make Hay While the Sun Shines."

There is a lesson in the work of the thrifty farmer. He knows that the bright sunshine may last but a day and he prepares for the showers which are so liable to follow. So it should be with every household. Dysentery, diarrhoea and cholera morbus may attack some member of the home without warning. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which is the best known medicine for these diseases, should always be kept at hand, as immediate treatment is necessary, and delay may prove fatal. It has been said that somehow we are all looped together in infinity, and Devita Pierce of Big Point agrees with that thought. After all, she says, it is evident that God used Richard Buschmann, a man whom she had never seen before, to save her life this past Saturday.

Buschmann and his son, Marshall, 14, newcomers to St. Martin in the extreme western part of the county, were fishing the Mississippi Power Company steam plant ponds in east Jackson County around 1:30 p.m. when Buschmann saved Mrs. Pierce from a watery grave.

Buschmann and his son had been fishing around one of the two bridges spanning Mississippi Power Company's Plant Daniel steam ponds in the Big Point area. Buschmann, who recently moved here from Houston, Texas, said he is not completely familiar with the area. However, he learned of the ponds when he worked for Ingalls about 13 years ago.

As they were driving toward the second bridge about a half mile away they saw Mrs. Pierce lose control of her car as it rounded a curve and apparently went onto a shoulder of the road. He said the automobile swerved several times before hitting the bridge and catapulting into the air before plunging into the pond.

"Her car flew into the lake. She was airborne about half the distance from the bridge to the pond," Buschmann told The Mississippi Press as he reconstructed the sequence of events.

"I floorboarded my car to race up to the bridge. We were about 300 to 400 yards away from the bridge. The whole car was under water. I ran up on See RESCUE ..... Page 3-A ► top of the bridge . . . I could see where the bubbles were coming up. I started pulling my clothes off. About the time I had my boots off, I could see her hand in the water. She was floating face down. I hit the water and got to her."

When he reached Mrs. Pierce, Buschmann discovered she was conscious and moving in the water, but she didn't appear to have complete control of her body. "I rolled her on her back and she spit water. Then we both went under the water. She grabbed my head. I guess she didn't know what was going on. I yelled at her to lay back and relax. She was praying the whole way, while I was trying to swim around."

While swimming back to shore, Buschmann shouted for his son to stop the first vehicle he saw, but there were no cars. Finally, after what Buschmann said seemed an eternity, a car appeared, almost out of nowhere. The boy shouted and gestured, but the driver sped away. The driver apparently feared that he was an intended victim of a sinister plot Buschmann said.

Then the sure hand of God intervened. That's what Mrs. Pierce believes, and she is firm in that conviction. A small truck appeared on the road and stopped. Buschmann was almost back to shore with the woman by this time.

"I was pulling her toward a rocky area where she could lay flat. The man looked and then he took off, to go get the ambulance and the sheriff," Buschmann said.

Once he had pulled Mrs. Pierce's upper body onto the rocks and determined that she was the only occupant of the car, he realized the woman had suffered cuts from the broken window on the driver's side. He began washing blood from her eyes with warm water from the pond.

"She was conscious. I held her hand. I talked to her. I washed some of the blood away, so she could see. It was pretty cold, so I left part of her body in the water because the power plant water is warm. I wrapped her body in a blanket and some clothes that my boy had gotten from some black guys. The man who had called in for help came back. He is some sort of volunteer fireman. I didn't get any names; I was too excited," Buschmann said.

As they awaited the arrival of Amserv and sheriff's officers, Buschmann said he learned that Mrs. Pierce is the mother of veteran sheriff's officer Larry Pierce, whose wife, Sue, also is with the sheriff's department.

He talked with Mrs. Pierce Saturday night by telephone. She told him doctors at Singing River Hospital said her mother-in-law had suffered a broken hip that would require surgery.

"She would have been gone in about two minutes, if Marshall and I had not been there," Buschmann said. "Marshall was a big help. He helped me keep calm. I had him go get a rope, in case I needed it, because I had problems swimming with her. Then he got the dry clothes and the blanket for her. I am proud of him."

Mrs. Pierce, who confirmed Buschmann's account of the incident, told the newspaper Monday, "I owe him my life. He got me out. The Lord was just down there in the water with me in that car."

Mrs. Pierce said she lost control of her car when she apparently moved over too close to the shoulder when she met a truck on Big Point Road. "I got over too far. The truck was pretty close. I lost control and I tried to pull back onto the road. The second time, I tried to pull it back onto the road, but it went into the bridge," she said.

After her automobile hit the water, she said it began sinking rapidly. "I was trying to find the door knob to open it. Then I tried to turn on the key, so the electric windows would come down. I didn't realize at that time that the glass was broken out. Later, I could remember hearing the glass break when I hit the bridge. I felt around and I went out the window."

"I thought at first that he had opened the door, but he said, 'You were coming through it (when Buschmann reached her underwater).'"

"I did a lot of praying down there. I believe in prayer. That's what got me through this. I am a diabetic. I have high blood pressure and an irregular heartbeat. But I remained stable. I never lost consciousness."

"I told Larry and all of them (family) I wanted to get in touch with that man."

Mrs. Pierce underwent surgery on her hip Sunday and appears to be recovering satisfactorily at Singing River Hospital. 91

Entire Life Of New Point Alderman Is Tied To The Ward He Represents

(This is another in a series of features introducing newly-elected Moss Point and Pascagoula officials.)

By Alice Colmer
(Staff Writer)

Arnold Pierce, Moss Point alderman of Ward One, was born, grew up, married, built a home and lives in the ward which he now serves as alderman.

Pierce has never before held public office, but he decided before the recent election he would like to represent his ward on the city board.

He knew most of the folks in the community and certainly was familiar with the problems and needs of the ward.

He is a graduate of Moss Point high, but started his school days in the little white frame Seaman school which was located where East Moss Point Baptist church is now.

His wife, the former Bertie Mae Fulton, was a classmate, but he says they were not sweethearts then. It was not until he was finishing high school that he started dating her.

They were married in 1943 before he went into the Army. He was in the Army three years and was stationed at Salt Flats in Utah where they were experimenting with the atomic bomb. He did not, however, know what it was then.

Thanks for helping hand

To the Editor:

On March 27, Wednesday afternoon, my three granddaughters, Terri Pierce, Farrah Pierce and Toni Rogers and their two friends, Brandi Hamilton and Kimberly Collum, were in a wreck on Highway 90. I'm glad to say none were seriously injured, but two were admitted to Singing River Hospital. Brandi was the most serious.

I wish I could personally thank each one who took time to give a helping hand. There was one special lady who was holding Toni's hand when she came to, as she was knocked unconscious for some time. Toni heard her voice as she came to, praying for her. What comfort it gave me to know some Christian person was so concerned and took the time to stay with her. I have tried to find out who the lady was.

I haven't seen the car, but what I've heard, God's guardian angels were watching over those girls — not to have gotten hurt any worse than they did.

I would like for the lady to please call me at 588-6582. I'd like to personally thank her. I'm also including Terri's and Farrah's grandmother, Lois Broadus, too for your helping hand.

Former Pas fire chief dies

By REGINA HINES

Mississippi Press Staff

PASCAGOULA — A traditional tribute for deceased firefighters will be observed here Thursday during services for former Pascagoula Fire Chief Robert Pierce, who died Tuesday at his home.

Pierce, 67, who was chief from 1971 until his retirement on Sept. 1, 1985, served the fire department for 30 years.

Fire Chief Jewel McMillian, who served under Pierce for 14 years, said the chief's coffin will be taken by fire department personnel from Holder-Wells Funeral Home to the front of Central Fire Station on Jackson Avenue for a brief service during which the fire bell will be tolled once for each year of his service.

Robert Pierce

Pierce will then be taken back to the funeral home and on to Mobile for entombment.

McMillian said this tradition was started several years ago when a firefighter was killed in the line of duty. "We will keep this tradition going," he said.

The central fire station was built in 1976 during Pierce's tenure as chief.

"He was a fine guy and a good chief," McMillian said. "He brought the department ahead a lot."

Pierce served in the U.S. Navy during the Korean Conflict from 1949 through 1953.

He started his career with Pascagoula Fire Department in 1953. In 1957, he transferred to the Pascagoula Police Department, where he served as the first K-9 officer. He later transferred back to the fire department where he worked up the ranks to become chief.

During his 14 years as chief, he purchased the city's first rescue unit and the first Jaws of Life equipment in Jackson County. He started the emergency medical technician's program and was an fire science instructor at Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College.

Visitation for Pierce will be from 6-8 p.m. today at Holder-Wells Funeral Home in Moss Point. Services are 11 a.m. Thursday.

Miss Fannye Cook, even though she has been dead many years. She provided some of the earliest material, and was largely responsible for the idea in the first place.

The history of a Family, as well as a Country, is a constantly growing thing and thus can never be finished. The small portion that I have been able to collect here involves only a limited amount of information about only a few generations -- yet, if it is not collected while the sources are still available, it will be lost forever. This is particularly true of pioneer families and new countries. It has been truly said that people who live history seldom have time to write it. In some instances the people that I have spoken about here were unable to write it -- or even their name.

I would hope that at the proper time in the future some later member of the Pierce family will see fit to add to this record, and additional ones after that, so that we may not lose contact with the descendants of Mary and Randall as we already have with their ancestors.

A SHORT HISTORY OF MISSISSIPPI

The discovery of the New World by Columbus in 1492 set off the greatest exploration period that we have any record of. It stirred men's imagination, gave hope to the poor and landless and shifted the balance of power in the Old Country. We first see Mississippi involved when the Spaniard Hernando De Soto marched across the southern part of the country with a band of Spanish soldiers on an exploration trip, arriving at the Mississippi River near what is now Sunflower Landing in the Spring of 1541, only 49 years after Columbus had arrived on his first trip. Soto had a very bad time with the Indians, probably due mostly to his own fault because he certainly didn't make much of an effort to make friends with them. He was completely worn out with it all by the time he reached the Mississippi, fell ill with a fever, died and was buried in the waters of the River. His followers cleared out as fast as they could, eventually making it into Mexico via Louisiana and Texas.

More than 140 years passed with no further active involvement of Mississippi and then in 1682 La Salle explored the Mississippi River and claimed it for his King, Louis 14th of France. By this time there was considerable competition for the lands of the new world, primarily between England, France and Spain. The Eastern Seaboard had been pretty thoroughly explored, claimed and to a small extent settled here and there. Iberville, a strong French Canadian leader, convinced his King, Louis 14th, that it was time to establish settlements in the southern interior. The French based their claim to this area on the La Salle Exploration. The Spanish in turn had some claim to it as a result of Soto's trip. The English claimed an area extending from Atlantic to Pacific between the 31st and the 36th parallel based upon discoveries and settlements on the Atlantic Coast. The French discovered that an Englishman by the name of Dr. Daniel Coxe was planning a settlement in this area to confirm a patent that he had gained possession of which had originally been conferred upon Sir Robert Heath by Charles the First. Thus, with the three most important colonizers suddenly interested in the same lands, the race was on and possession then as now, was a strong point in favor of the possessor.

The Spanish arrived and established a base at Pensacola in 1698 and when Iberville arrived there and found the Spanish, he merely moved further along the Gulf seaboard, pausing in the neighborhood of the present Biloxi, then into the mouth of the Mississippi and up to the present location of Baton Rouge which at that time marked the boundary between two different Indian Tribes. Iberville then retraced his route and built a Fort near the present Ocean Springs on the Mississippi Coast. It was named Maurepas, completed on the 4th of May, 1699 and was to serve as the base for the spread of the French influence throughout the South and including the area later known as Louisiana. Iberville, and his brother Bienville were responsible for the development of Biloxi, New Orleans and Mobile.

In 1716 Bienville established a Fort at the present location of Natchez, by name Ft. Rosalie in honor of Madame Ponchatrain. Count Ponchatrain, her husband, was the King's Minister of Marine, and largely responsible for the control of the overseas colonies. This was in the heart of the homeland area of the Natchez Indians. They were a strong people, proud and fearless, claiming descent from the Aztecs. The home of their Great Sun the ruling Chief was at White Apple Village not far from the French settlement.

Bienville concluded a treaty with the Natchez which provided that they would assist him in the construction of the Fort and live peaceably with the French after its construction. They did help with the Fort, supplying 2500 pieces of timber thirteen feet ten inches in length for fencing the Fort and the bark from three thousand cypress trees to cover the various buildings.

The peace lasted only 13 years. In 1729, after having been very badly put upon by the then Governor of Natchez, Chepart, the Natchez Indians massacred the French, killing or capturing the entire settlement which included by this time quite a large group of women. The French, in turn, retaliated by sending troops from New Orleans who practically obliterated the Natchez Nation. Some of them scattered to the northeastern part of what is now known as Mississippi while others moved across the river into the swamps. Four of the Natchez, men and women, were burned at the stake right in the heart of New Orleans. The French learned many things from the Indians!

The Southern Settlements brought more grief than gold to the French. In addition to Indian problems, they had troubles between their own people and with the English and Spanish who were trying to colonize the same general area. The "Mississippi Company," chartered in France in 1717, sold stock right and left, promoted by the smooth talking John Law. He was originally a sharp Scotch financier but he found a country where he could really let himself go in France. For a while, as long as the stock was rising, he was the most popular man in France. Actually, in spite of the fact that it failed completely and gave up its charter to the King in 1731, just after the Natchez massacre, it was probably more responsible for the expansion in this area than anything else. Law was a great fund raiser, and settlers, both men and women, were sent to "the Mississippi Country" with at least some of these funds. Law rose to Comptroller-General of Finance for France during the peak of his popularity but died a broken man in 1729.

French attention to Natchez languished after the massacre. Bienville felt that a Capitol city for this whole area should be located on the River, but nearer the mouth. In 1718 he had started clearing an area only about 100 miles from the mouth of the Mississippi instead of 300 miles as was Natchez. It was a pretty sad looking location but with persistence and much work the snakes and alligators were finally cleared out and with ditches and levees it was finally made livable. It was named New Orleans.

In the next 33 years not a great deal happened to influence the destiny of Natchez one way or the other. In 1763 the French and Indian wars with the English were finally ended with the French losing the Natchez area as well as the Gulf Coast. A Company of Redcoats moved into Natchez and took over from a small garrison of the French who still maintained Ft. Rosalie. The British immediately changed the name to Ft. Panmure, the name of the current British Prime Minister. The growth of Natchez as a center of aristocratic landowners actually stemmed from this British take-over. The British began to make large land grants to former British officers who had served in the French-Indian Wars and others of prominence who were willing to move into this new area and maintain it as a British outpost right under the nose of the French and later the Spanish. Among the first of these early grants was one to Col. Anthony Hutchins of South Carolina for approximately 1500 acres. Col. Hutchins moved onto his property along with a group of followers in 1772 and two years later moved his family to the new home. Two months after the arrival of his wife a son John was born, the first male American (actually British at that time), to be born in Natchez.

Natchez had a number of settlers by the time of the Revolutionary War and most of them, including Col. Hutchins were Tories. Just before the end of the war, Spain joined France in her attack on England and very quickly captured Natchez. The young American Nation was naturally very put out about this, particularly as a result of the fact that American Riverboatmen were not treated as well as they would have preferred. In the Treaty of San Lorenzo, concluded with the Spanish in 1795, it was conceded that the U.S. would take over Natchez and all land East of the Mississippi and as far South as the 31st Parallel (the present North-South boundary between Louisiana and Mississippi).

In the Treaty of Paris, which ended the Revolutionary War, the Southern Boundary of the U.S. had been in question. It is said that the preliminary Treaty contained a secret clause providing that if any power other than England should receive the Floridas, the boundary between the U.S. and West Florida would be the 31st Parallel. However, if England should receive West Florida, the boundary would be a line drawn due East from the juncture of the Yazoo and the Mississippi Rivers to the Apalachicola River. Spain received the Floridas and this boundary controversy continued from 1783, the date of the Treaty, until it was settled on paper in 1795. It took another 3 years before the Spanish finally pulled back and Governor Gayoso delivered Natchez to Andrew Ellicott, who had been sent there by President Washington to settle the boundary dispute with the Spanish. Gayoso left on March 30, 1798. Ellicott spent another 2 years in this area completing the survey between the Spanish in West Florida and the Americans in Mississippi Territory.

The development of Natchez then dates from 1798 as a part of the United States. The English Tories, who had been settling this area since 1772, for the most part became American citizens now. The pattern of large plantations and slaves to work them was already established and now began in earnest. The Cotton Gin had been invented in Georgia in 1794. President Jefferson bought Louisiana in 1803. The first Mississippi River steamer moved majestically down the River in 1811. The stage was set for the development of the Cotton Kingdom!

By 1860, a period of only 62 years, the Natchez Area had become one of the most celebrated cotton growing regions in the world. It was profitable business. The land was cheap, at least initially; the climate was good; the land fertile ... and the Plantation Owner could sell all the cotton he could produce. So he grew cotton, bought more slaves and as he became able to afford it, built a big house for himself. More than a hundred years have passed, but some of these magnificent houses still stand! It was a period of culture and leisure for the Plantation owners and the fame of this region spread far and wide. The first Territorial Governor was Winthrop Sargent from Massachusetts, the second was W. C. C. Claiborne from Virginia, the third was Robert Williams from North Carolina and the fourth was David Holmes from Pennsylvania. Samuel Brooks from New Hampshire was the first Mayor of Natchez. Although there were traces of the earlier Spanish and French, the ruling element and by far the majority of the settlers were of Anglo-Saxon descent.

After Gayoso relinquished Natchez he consented to the surveying of the line between the Spanish and the Southern boundary of the Mississippi Territory. Ellicott was one of the best surveyors of his time but the project proceeded very slowly, passing through canebrakes and swamps. The 31st parallel had been agreed upon. It was merely a matter of determining by survey where it actually was, and marking it. Hodding Carter, in his "Lower Mississippi," tells of Ellicott's axmen cutting sixty-foot pathways through the cane to mark the line. This 31st parallel is now the boundary between Mississippi and the portion of Louisiana east of the Mississippi.

The U.S. Government proceeded to make various treaties with the Indians in order to secure land for the settlers who were anxious to move into this area. Almost as soon as it was made available it was bought and settled. At this time there was no Homestead Act and all land was bought from the Federal Government after it had been secured from the Indians by treaty. No land was sold until it had been surveyed. Much land was taken over by squatters who moved in and settled without title. In some cases title was later secured after it was surveyed and available for sale. The land that Randall Jr. bought on Pearl River in 1849 had been surveyed as early as 1810. It was inevitable that this land produced a great rush from the older eastern areas. It was good cotton land, and cotton was the glamor crop of the age. The climate was much like that of Georgia and the Carolinas. It was "new" land and could be bought from the Government for $2.00 per acre! Naturally the first ones to arrive picked the best that was available.

It became obvious that it would not be very long before Mississippi Territory would hope to become the State of Mississippi. This was contemplated at the time Georgia relinquished her claim to Alabama and Mississippi Territories and it was agreed that these two areas would be treated like the "Northwest" i.e., they could become States when they were able to prove a justifiable population.

Everett Dick in "The Dixie Frontier" says that when the U.S. Government secured the land in this area it attempted to apply the following policy: (1) The rights of the Indians were to be safeguarded. (2) No one was to settle on the public domain until it had been surveyed, and purchased. (3) The land was to be surveyed in accordance with the new "Rectangular" system. (4) Land was to be sold to the highest bidder with a minimum of $2 per acre. (5) If no one bid on a particular plot at the auction, it was open to private sale thereafter at the minimum price.

With the procedure established, land available and plenty of potential settlers all along the East Coast, it was inevitable that this area should grow. They came in wagons, on horseback and some even walked. It was nearly 400 miles from Burke County Georgia to Little Bahala in Lawrence County, Territory of Mississippi, but it was nearer than from Dublin Town to Georgia and Randall had made that portion of the journey many years before!

Little Bahala was just off the main route from Georgia, known to Natchez as the "Three-Chopped-Way." Some records also refer to it as the Federal Road. Randall Huckaby settled in this area and lived there until his death. We have no record as to whether this was his plan when he left Georgia or whether he was on his way to Natchez and decided that Little Bahala was close enough. This was in the Piney Woods, and probably very similar to the area that he came from in Georgia. Many of our historians refer repeatedly to the fact that the early pioneers usually settled in a new area very similar to the one that they had left behind them on the East Coast.

In any case, it did not prove permanently satisfactory for Randall Huckaby, Jr. In 1849 he moved to Pearl River and started to collect land and slaves. He picked a spot near the junction of Bahala Creek and Pearl River, about 12 miles north of the thriving town of Monticello. This town had been founded in 1798, 51 years earlier by Harmon Runnels. Runnels had served on the first State Constitutional Convention in 1817 and had fathered Hiram Runnels who served as Governor of Mississippi from 1833-1835. He was succeeded as Governor by Charles Lynch also from Monticello who served from 1836-1838. Monticello had been selected as the State Capitol in the 1820s but the legislature changed its mind only 24 hours later. S. S. Prentiss, one of the most prominent lawyers in Mississippi, received his license to practice in Monticello in 1829. Steamboats used Pearl River as late as 1904 and Monticello was a regular port of call. I can't see why Randall Huckaby selected Little Bahala but I do approve of Randall Huckaby's selection of the Monticello area. I'll tell you more about his selection later on.

LAND

The driving force behind the settlement of Mississippi, as well as all the other virgin areas of the U.S., was either the quest for land or for gold. At that time, and to some extent in all ages, the ownership of land set one apart. It was a tangible evidence of substance and worth, a link to freedom and independence, proof of accomplishment. Moreover, in that day when men made their living for the most part directly from agriculture it was necessary for a livelihood. If you didn't have land you usually found yourself working for somebody who did. Most of these settlers were only recently out of England or Scotland or Ireland or some other part of Europe where land was owned by the ruling class. There in most areas the proposition of inheritance through Fee Tail still was common. This meant that an estate was passed on at the death of the owner to a particular heir, usually the eldest son. This served to keep the estate intact and under the name of the same owner, but it resulted in the increase of the landless. Many of the younger sons from noble families came to America in search of the land that they could not have in the old country.

After the Peace Treaty in 1783, between the U.S. and Great Britain, many new problems clamored for settlement. Among these was the need for a reasonable system of measuring and describing the great Public Lands area which now belonged to the Federal Government. In the Act of 1785 the Rectangular System for Land Measurement and Description was adopted by the new Congress. Certainly this was a need of long standing. Previous to the acceptance of this new system various methods had been used, the principle one being that known as Metes and Bounds which was common throughout the original 13 Colonies and certain other early States. Everett Dick in his "The Dixie Frontier" describes the survey of a tract of land in Kentucky by Daniel Boone:

"Survaide for Mager (Major?) Bullock a cartin trickt of land lying on the waters of the Moddy (Muddy?) crick. Joyning Jesse Benton on the West end beginning at a black oke and running west 204 pole to a white oke thence south 302 poles to a hickerry thence este 204 poles to two white oke sapelings thence 302 pole to the beginning."

Obviously this sort of system had its shortcomings, the outstanding ones being the transient and unrecoverable nature of the markings and the fact that there was no way to avoid overlapping surveys and claims. The Rectangular System refers north-south and east-west lines to known and permanent geographical locations in terms of longitude and latitude. All of the land blocks are portions of a Standard known as the Township. In the case of the Metes and Bounds system, the parcels of land were seldom rectangular and almost never of standard sizes. The effect of these two land measurement methods can be best noted from the air. As you fly over the area which was surveyed by the Rectangular Method, you can note the neat blocks laid out in various different crops or woodland. Proceeding into the Eastern part of the U.S. you suddenly come upon the most confused jagged pattern with irregular field boundaries running in all directions. The lack of a proper system of surveying in these early States is even now a source of controversy and litigation. In States where oil has been discovered, exact boundaries are suddenly of the utmost consequence. Kentucky is an example of this.

With the Rectangular System the Township is the unit, divided into 36 Sections, each a mile square and consisting of 640 acres. This, in turn, was quartered into blocks of 160 acres. The Quarter-Section, in turn, being divided into quarters of 40 acres each, known as Lots. Since the Section was always exactly oriented with respect to geographical location, it was obviously very easy to refer to the northeast quarter of Section 5 and there was no likelihood of confusion either then or in the future. The difficulty of relocating boundaries varies, depending upon how far the surveyor has to go to locate known markers, from which to proceed. If no markers can be found then it is possible to survey all the way from the Base lines, or the Principal Meridian. These are determined in the same manner that a navigator at sea pinpoints his geographical location, i.e., through the use of a sextant or other similar instruments. This naturally is one of the great points in favor of the Rectangular System. Once the survey has been made and

Pascagoula Public Library
Local History & Genealogy Dept.

plat maps set up it is always possible to relocate boundaries, (with reasonable accuracy), even if all markers have been completely obliterated.

The Survey of the area which included Natchez, according to the Rectangular System, was started very shortly after Ellicott persuaded Gayoso to give up Natchez in 1798. The plat maps of the Pierce lands, on Pearl River are dated 1810. Different parts of the country were surveyed at widely different times. Land referred to a certain Principal Meridian and Base Line, (north-south and east-west) was usually designated as a certain named Survey. This one has been named the WASHINGTON SURVEY, probably because the little town of Washington, then the Capitol of Mississippi Territory, was only about 8 miles west of the Principal Meridian. Roughly, the boundaries of the Washington Survey are as follows:

West.....The Mississippi River
South.....Parallel 31, currently the boundary between Mississippi and that portion of Louisiana which is east of the Mississippi River
East.....Pearl River
North.....Choctaw Base Line. This East/West line is located just north of Hazelhurst

Townships may extend on either side of a Principal Meridian or on either side of a Base Line. In the case of the Washington Survey, they do extend on either side of the Principal Meridian but only to the north of the Base Line. It is of interest that surveys according to the Rectangular System do not cross navigable waters. Thus the incomplete portion of a block of land resulting from the infringement of a navigable stream, (such as the Pearl River was in the early 1800s) is designated fractional, such as Fractional Section 4.

In describing locations with respect to a Base Line the term used is Township. With respect to a Principal Meridian the term is Range. Thus the Pierce lands are described as Township 8 North, Range 11 East, which means that they are in the 8th Township north of the Base Line and the 11th Township East of the Principal Meridian (48 miles and 66 miles respectively).

Eventually all parts of the State were surveyed but the Washington Survey was the earliest. At the time that it was made, the land north of the Choctaw Base Line still belonged to the Choctaw Nation. The Choctaws had ceded the southern part of the area known as Mississippi Territory to the U.S. in the Treaty of Mount Dexter in 1805. That is, the southern part with the exception of the lands along the Mississippi from the 31st parallel as far north as the Yazoo River. This Natchez District had been secured through earlier Treaties with both the Spaniards and the Choctaws. Thus the early surveying of the Washington Survey, its proximity to the old established Natchez District and the highly desirable nature of its lands served to draw settlers from the Eastern Seaboard very fast. Since there was no Homestead plan in existence in those days, it was necessary to buy all land from the U.S. Government. This being before Mississippi became a State, there was no locally elected government to deal with. The Land Offices were maintained by the Federal Government and the Governor was appointed by the President. The Capitol was still in the village of Washington, approximately 8 miles east of Natchez. The land was sold for about $2.25 per acre, depending upon desirability.

Eventually the U.S. would secure the remaining portions of the present State of Mississippi through further Treaties with the Indians. At the Treaty of Doak's Stand in 1820 the Choctaws ceded a large parcel north of the Choctaw Base Line in the western part of the state. In 1830 at the Treaty of Dancing Rabbit the Choctaws gave up all of their holdings as a Nation in Mississippi and moved to Oklahoma. A limited number who would not consent to the move were allowed to remain and some of their descendants may be found in Mississippi still. In the Treaty of Pontotoc in 1832 the Chickasaws gave up their holdings in the north-eastern corner of the state and also consented to move west of the Mississippi River. The entire area of the state as we presently know it was now available for settlement. It had been accepted as a State in 1817. It had a stable government and cheap land was available. The settlers poured over Three-Chopped-Way from Georgia, they came down the Natchez Trace from Tennessee and many came down the Mississippi by boat. The Pearl was navigable from New Orleans as far north as Jackson and probably some came that way. The greatest influx came from Georgia and the Carolinas though, and they were mostly of Anglo-Saxon ancestry. The Pierces and the Furrs were among these.

LAWRENCE COUNTY

The road traveled by most of the settlers who moved westward from the eastern seaboard through Alabama and Mississippi was known as the Three-Chopped-Way. It was so obscure in the early days that it was necessary to mark it in some manner so that the traveler would not get lost. This was done with an axe ... three slashes along the way on strategically located trees. It was established about 1805 and extended from Milledgeville, the Capitol of Georgia, by way of Ft. Stevens in Alabama to Natchez. At first, it was little more than a bridle path but in 1807 it was widened into a wagon road. It is said that even this improvement left much to be desired ... it was a bad road and breakdowns were frequent and serious. It was the only direct route from Georgia to the increasingly important town of Natchez, however, and it was soon established as a Post road and mail passed back and forth three times a week.

Almost simultaneously with the surveying of this area counties began to be formed to provide the basis for some degree of self-government. Most of the early counties were considerably larger than they are now. They were later broken down into the present smaller areas more convenient to administer with a Board of Supervisors. Marion County was formed on December 9, 1811 and included the areas now comprised by Lawrence, Lincoln and the present county of Marion. It was named for that Revolutionary War guerilla, Francis Marion, who had gained fame by contributing so greatly to the American victories in the Carolinas.

Within Marion County, where the Three-Chopped-Way crossed Pearl River, an enterprising gentleman from Georgia set up a town in 1811. His name was Harmon Runnells and he had been a man of some prominence in his former state. He recognized the site as an important point on the road to Natchez, and he had enough money to do something about it. He bought up 637 acres of land at the crossing for $1275. Two dollars an acre was generally the going price in this area at this time. His judgment was good. The site was right. Undoubtedly others had recognized it before him but he did something about it. A junction on a navigable river and a Federal road enroute to Natchez could hardly fail. Although this was still Mississippi Territory, it didn't take much imagination to realize that it was sure to be a State very soon.

The town was named Monticello and it grew and prospered. Within 5 years (1814) it had a population of 500 and Mr. Runnells had made some profit on his investment. It was large enough to justify a county of its own so Lawrence County was carved out of Marion County and established with Monticello as its county seat on December 14, 1814. This was 3 years before Mississippi would become a state and Lawrence County was one of the 14 territorial counties that participated in the Mississippi Constitutional Convention of 1817. As government became established, the stream of settlers swelled along the Three-Chopped-Way.

In The Southern Frontier, John Anthony Caruso tells us: "So they moved into Mississippi Territory by the thousands, usually in parties composed of friends and relatives. Like the children of Israel, 'they sent their Calebs and Joshuas ahead to spy out the land and prepare the way.' The rapidly increasing migration encouraged William Lattimore, territorial delegate, to work in Congress for the admission of the entire territory as a State in the Union. In March 1816 the Senate advised him that it could not seriously consider the matter without a census of the territory. The census, taken in December, showed 75,502 people of whom 45,085 were free whites, 356 free Negroes, and 30,061 slaves. Mindful of the 'unprecedented magnitude' of the territory, Lattimore now Chairman of a Committee seeking admission for Mississippi, proposed it be divided by a north and south line. The western or more populous part would become a state and the eastern part would remain a territory. Eventually Congress adopted this plan." The line that Mr. Caruso is talking about was the boundary between Mississippi and Alabama. Mississippi, partly by virtue of the old well-established Natchez area, was considerably more populous than Alabama at that time. Mississippi was accepted as a State on December 10, 1817. Alabama remained a Territory until July 5, 1819.

The settlers continued to move westward on the Three-Chopped-Way and some of them stopped in Lawrence County and Monticello. Harmon Runnells' investment proved a profitable one and he remained a respected citizen of Monticello for many years. One of his sons became Governor of the State. In years to come Monticello gave two other Governors to the State (Longino and Lynch).

Mr. Joseph Dale, in Source Material For Mississippi History, Lawrence County, Volume 39, says: "Monticello in the early thirties of the last century was the second largest town in the state, having a population of something like 2500 persons. Up and down Pearl River in the territory embraced in Lawrence County lived some of the wealthiest and most highly cultured families in the South at that time. Stephen A. Douglas, unsuccessful candidate for President against Lincoln, once owned and operated a large river plantation in Lawrence County."

Randall Huckaby, Sr. and his family and friends, including Furrs, Lovins, Townsends and many others, traveled the Three-Chopped-Way and found what they were looking for without continuing to Natchez. They settled in Lawrence County, and that is where we first find Randall listed in the Census ... in 1820. He was undoubtedly still in Georgia for the Census of 1810 but that one has been destroyed.

RANDALL HUCKABY PIERCE, SR.

It appears that Randall came to Mississippi at just about the time that Lawrence County was formed. By the reckoning of that time, he was already an old man (45, if he came in 1814). It has been variously reported that he came some time between 1812 and 1818. The most reasonable evidence indicates that he was born in Ireland. We know his birthdate to be April 28th, 1769. That's all we know about him until he arrived in the U.S. as a young man, of about 17 years of age.

I have spent much time of my own, in addition to a certain amount of professional research, in an attempt to discover something about his background before he came to this country. I have not been able to locate any information concerning his life before he came to this country.

My first reaction to hearing that he came from Ireland was to wonder what an Englishman was doing there in the Eighteenth Century, since Pierce is unquestionably of English origin. Fredric Beech Pierce in his PIERCE GENEALOGY, written in 1882, gives the following possible clue:

"There was one branch of the Pierce family which went into Ireland from England during the reign of Queen Elizabeth. This branch went from Northumberland County, England. Several of the members were soldiers with Oliver Cromwell and went with him to Ireland in 1649 and settled at Glencanny on Hillywater two miles from Enniskillen and the farm upon which they located is still in possession of the family, owned and occupied by William Pierce Esq. Seven members of this family were in the Battle of the Boyne in 1690. Four or five were members of the celebrated Enniskillen Dragoons. The family were members of the Church of England."

It's interesting to speculate if this was really Randall's family and if so, why he decided to come to America. I'm not sure that we'll ever know, but at least we have no better explanation.

I have tried on two separate occasions to locate some facts on him through the Genealogical Office in Dublin. Some general information on the Pierce name, obtained from the Chief Herald, is included in the Appendix. There is nothing that definitely identifies Randall.

In any case, Randall found himself in either the Carolinas or Georgia in the latter part of the Eighteenth Century, undoubtedly a very exciting time and place for a young man. I have been able to find only one record that seems to refer to him during this period. On a Georgia list of tax defaulters (Burke County, issue of October 30, 1790), is listed a Randall Pierce. The time and place are right. It was probably him. According to Mr. Folks Huxford, editor of the Georgia Genealogical Magazine, such lists were required by law to show persons who had paid taxes in the County during the previous year but not for the current year. Obviously this could mean a number of different things, including the possibility that he couldn't afford to pay or that he had moved elsewhere. This does seem to locate him in Burke County in 1789 however.

Rightly or wrongly, the English had been kicked out of the country and here was a vast rich land to settle and defend. He married a Scotch lass by the name of Mary Watley and set about doing his part, including increasing the population. We have no date of the birth of his first child, a girl named Delilah, but the second one, Catherine, was born in January 1792. It seems reasonable to assume that the marriage took place about 1789. If Randall came to the U.S. in 1786, he had been here only 3 years then when he married. This would have made him 20 and Mary 19 at the time of the marriage.

There are many unanswered questions about their early life and there is no available Census records from which to glean even a few meager facts. The first Census had been ordered by the Congress to take place in 1790 and each ten years thereafter. You see, the British didn't stay out. They came back in the War of 1812 and burned the Capitol at Washington, together with most of the early Census records, including those of Burke County.

So, the first time we find Randall listed in the Census is in 1820 -- and by that time all of his children have been born and he is living in Lawrence County Mississippi. The 1820 Census didn't tell much. As the years went by more and more information has been included, but that one was only the fourth one that had been taken of this new country and there was much to be learned. All three of the earlier ones for the entire State of Georgia are missing for one reason or another. So this first one to identify Randall and his family are welcome material even though limited. It was handwritten and after 140 years appears very badly faded and difficult to read. It shows Randall as the head of a family consisting of Mary and three children. The other five children were undoubtedly out on their own by this time. It is of interest to note the following totals for Lawrence County:

|-------------------------|------|
| Free White Males.....   | 2454 |
| Free White Females..... | 1683 |
| Free Colored Males..... | 6    |
| Free Colored Females... | 2    |
| Slave Males.....        | 531  |
| Slave Females.....      | 456  |

It appears from the indicated ages that the three children still with Mary and Randall in 1820 were John Watley, born in 1804, Martha, born in 1810, and James Mitchell, born in 1812. It seems likely that all eight of the children were born before the family left Georgia.

It's easier to imagine young people as pioneers than old ones. Usually their health is better, the spirit of adventure burns brighter and probably they need the land or the gold more than the old ones. None of this deterred Randall and Mary, however.

The Spanish who had taken advantage of the Revolutionary War to occupy Natchez did not give it back to the U.S. until 1798. The first surveying efforts then were devoted to a settlement of the 31st parallel boundary controversy. As soon thereafter as possible, other areas in South Mississippi were surveyed and made available for sale through the Federal Land Office. The Pierce Homestead on Pearl River was surveyed in 1810. There is no doubt that the settling of the War of 1812 together with treaties with the Indians of about this time stimulated interest in this area. So here we have Mary and Randall leaving the area where they had spent most of their lives, where their children had been born and their friends were located, moving out through the wilderness to a new land. It's hard to imagine now, but this truly was wilderness at that time. They traveled the Three-Chopped-Way for a distance of approximately 400 miles, much of it through hostile Indian country. The Creeks were the worst and the Three-Chopped-Way passed through their territory in Alabama.

During the War of 1812, they had joined the British against the Americans. The famous Shawnee Chief Tecumseh came south and roused the Creeks to bloody attacks against the American settlers. In 1813 more than 500 settlers were massacred at Ft. Mims on the Alabama River. In 1814 General Jackson broke the Creek power at the battle of Horseshoe Bend on the Tallapoosa River. This didn't eliminate the stragglers though and it was an unhealthy area for American settlers to travel through for a long time. For a while, the State of Georgia required that all who traveled the Three-Chopped-Way through the Creek Nation should have first obtained official permission from the State Capitol at Milledgeville. I have attempted to locate Randall and his family on these old records but without results.

Mary and Randall made the trip with at least some of their children, the youngest being only two, if they came in 1814, with Randall's brother John and a number of friends and neighbors. Among them were the Furrs and the Lovins. One of the Pierce children married into the Furr family and another married a Lovin. I found one report which indicated that Catherine Pierce and Christian Furr had walked from Georgia to Mississippi so they were probably married before leaving Georgia.

It appears that at least most of this group settled in the same general area along Little Bahala Creek.

Some of our early historians report that the American settlers usually settled in new areas very similar to the ones that they had left behind. Certainly this would seem to apply here. The Little Bahala settlement was in the piney hills; red clay and pines, not too dissimilar to certain areas of Georgia. The hills were small but rough. Not very fertile and not very good for cotton but a much more healthy area than the swamp-lands. Spring overflows, with the resultant mosquitoes and malaria, undoubtedly steered some settlers away from the much better cotton lands near the river. The Little Bahala was a small clear spring-fed stream which emptied into Big Bahala and that, in turn, into the Pearl River. There was a great contrast between the rich bottom land along the Pearl and the pine hills around Little Bahala, although they were only separated by about 15 or 20 miles.

The name Bahala is from the Choctaw word BYHALIA, which meant "standing white oaks." This was Choctaw country, all through southern Mississippi and they didn't seem to dislike the area along the Pearl, although I'll have to say that all evidence that I ever found of them, although near the river, could not be classified as swampland. I have found many arrowheads and axeheads but usually in sandy areas.

Randall settled north of the Three Chopped-Way by about ten miles and near the boundary of land which still belonged to the Choctaws. He was just within the Lawrence County Line on the north at that time. This area later became a part of Lincoln County in 1870. It is approximately 6 miles southeast of Wesson, 12 miles northeast of Brookhaven, and 15 miles northwest of Monticello. He was roughly 65 miles east of Natchez, the outstanding city in the South at that time. He was in the Washington Survey.

The Natchez economy was built around cotton, but it seems hardly reasonable that Randall planned for much cotton growing. It doesn't appear that he acquired much property, however, there was a "plantation" of unspecified size to deed to his son James Mitchell in 1824. The 1830 Census shows him with one slave, none, in 1840. Without slaves or sons, and at his age, it is pretty obvious that he was not going to get rich, even if he had lived on the Pearl River bottoms.

He raised a son, Randall Huckaby, Jr., however, who did get rich and he did it with cotton on Pearl River. We'll hear more of him later.

There are some conflicts in the information that I have located on Randall and I suppose that is to be expected since so much of it is by word-of-mouth. The most disappointing thing is the complete lack of information on his early life. Miss Cook indicates that he was born in Ireland on the 27th of April, 1769. His tombstone shows the date as the 28th. The Census of 1850 lists his birthplace as North Carolina, I tend to agree with Miss Cook on this, though, since her information came word-of-mouth directly from the old man, supposedly. At the time of the 1850 Census, Randall was 81 and probably didn't care one way or the other. I suspect this was the Census taker's mistake. There is no confirmation that his middle name was Huckaby so far as I have been able to find, although Miss Cook was confident of this also. On all the documents where I have found his name it was just listed as Randall. His son, in turn, was usually listed as Randall H. He would probably be surprised to learn that someone even cares after these many years.

Randall and Mary spent their last years on Little Bahala and died only a year apart. In 1964, guided by Mr. Walter Furr, a descendant of Mary Pierce, the daughter of Randall and Mary, I visited the Furr family graveyard where they are buried. There is a large well-kept church graveyard at Little Bahala Chapel only a short distance away. The Furr graveyard was badly unkempt and overgrown. Their daughter Catherine was buried in the church graveyard. I do not know why they were not buried there. Family graveyards rather than public graveyards seem to have been the custom during the early days of Mississippi and it is possible that the one at the church did not even exist at the time of their death.

Randall and Mary's tombstones are side by side and the oldest ones there according to Mr. Furr. They are plain white marble slabs about 18" wide, 3" thick and 40" high. They are badly discolored with that gray affliction that seems to attack old marble. They are inscribed as follows:

My Great, great, Grandparents

RANDALL HUCKABY, JR.

He was born on the 4th of July, 1802, in Georgia, the son of Randall Huckaby Pierce, Sr. and Mary Watley Pierce. That's not very much to say, but it's all we know about him until 1826 when we find him signing a bond, together with James Case, which binds him to marry Sintha (Cynthia) Jounhill. It is family tradition that Cynthia's maiden name was Case, and as a matter of fact it also appears that James Case was her brother.

Possibly she had been married before and Toundhill was her first husband.

At the time of the bond, and apparently the marriage followed immediately, Randall H. was 24 and Cynthia was 21. Now that he is the head of a family, it is easier to keep up with him through the Census records. In the Census of 1820 he was only 18 and was probably enumerated with whatever family he was living with at that time. He was not listed with his father's family. Individual names were not listed on the Census records until 1850, but there was no male of his age listed with his father's group. We do find him on each Census beginning with 1830 until his death.

In 1830 he had been married 4 years. He had a 25-year old wife and 2 sons, (Irving Huckaby and Anderson). Another male, (20 to 30 years of age) was listed with the family, (possibly a brother). He had 2 slaves, both male, one under 10 and the other between 10 and 24. This was a good time and place to get rich growing cotton. It was being done all around him but slaves were essential. Apparently Randall H. was not able to afford the slaves that were necessary so we see him starting with 2 young slaves and undoubtedly doing most of the work himself.

By 1840 he had increased his family to 4 boys and 2 girls. His slaves had increased to 8. He was 38 years of age and responsible for 16 persons. He was growing cotton in the Little Bahala area and evidently being successful with it. According to David L. Cohn in his book "King Cotton," by 1840 cotton had become the nation's leading export, and Mississippi grew more of it than any other State of the Union.

Nine years later, in 1849, Randall H. had decided to move to Pearl River. This was still in Lawrence County, and only about 10 miles from the original Pierce homestead. There were more problems too. It was subject to yearly overflow, much like the Nile in Egypt, and while this restored the land somewhat each year as a result of the rich deposits left, it also bred mosquitoes and resulted in malaria. It was also much more difficult to clear and prepare for cultivation. Enormous oaks, pines, cypress and gum trees grew in great profusion, all interlaced with vines and interspersed in some areas with canebrakes. This land had been surveyed originally, starting in 1810, and some of it had been in the Jelks family since about 1816. Randall H. bought his first large parcel from Robert Jelks on January 8, 1849. It consisted of 759 acres and he paid $1,800 for it ... $2.30 per acre. It lay along Pearl River on the west side, and on either side of Bahala Creek where it joined Pearl River. After living more than 30 years on the upper reaches of Bahala Creek, he was now preparing to follow it to its end!

About a mile from where Bahala empties into Pearl River, Randall H. selected a home site on the north side of Bahala on a slight rise and only about 200 yards from the Creek. It is not known if the Jelks had a residence at this location or if it was selected originally by Randall H. In any case, it was the most natural site on his land and if there was a house there at the time of purchase, it evidently was not adequate since the Pierce family did not move there immediately. The 1850 Census, shows them still living among their neighbors at their original home, near James Case and Henry Furr, both brothers-in-law of Randall H.

It's possible that whatever accommodation might have been sufficient for the Jelks family just wasn't sufficient for the Pierce family. Randall H. now had (1850) 10 children, with 9 of them still living at home. He was 48 years of age and quite well off by local standards. The 1850 Census, in addition to listing individuals by name, also for the first time showed the amount of Real Estate owned. Randall H. is shown with lands worth $7,500. With all economic values so different then, the only revealing approach to an understanding of what this meant is on a comparative basis. Other well-known land owners of Lawrence County of that time were Arthur Fox, (General Fox), with land worth $6,067, Jake Hilliard with $3,000, Willis Hunt with $3,500, and ? Prestige with $5,397. There were only three land owners in the entire county with land valued at more than $7,500. They were D. C. Buckley with $12,000, ? Smith with $10,000, and Edward L. Bonner with $8,000.

Randall H. had good reason to look forward to nothing but continued success. Cotton was riding high in the World Markets and he was especially well equipped to produce it. True, there was increasing agitation in the Northern States to free the slaves, but they just didn't understand the problem. How could anybody grow cotton with all the hard hot manual labor involved without slaves?

As the Southern plantation owner became prosperous and as his family increased, the accepted status symbol as well as necessity was a Big House. It certainly seemed that the time had now come for Randall H. to build one. He could afford it and he certainly needed it at his Pearl River Plantation. He laid out the plans and started construction. It was accepted practice in plantation homes for the kitchen to occupy a separate building adjacent to the Big House. This was in order to remove the odors of cooking and the noise of the cooks from the living quarters of the owner and his family.

The kitchen was started first, but before it was finished Randall H. died. Cynthia was left with a plantation to operate, a large family to educate and a Big House under construction. She apparently decided against the Big House. It has been passed down through the family that she cancelled the plans for the large house, moved the kitchen which was under construction forward to the site originally intended for the Big House, enlarged it somewhat and raised her family in it. Three generations of Pierce have grown up in that house, since that time (1855), and it still stands today (1965).

At the time of his death in 1855, Randall H. had about 2,000 acres of land and an unknown number of slaves. He listed ownership of 14 in the 1850 Census and Cynthia listed 28 in the Census of 1860. He made his Will in 1854 indicating that each of his 10 children should have 2 slaves, a horse, saddle and bridle, and $250 in cash. The remainder of his property he left to Cynthia to be held either until her death or until she should remarry. He also willed that each of his children should be "educated as far as may be considered a good English education." The distribution to the children was to take place as they came of age or as they became married.

He was only 53 years of age when he died. He had worked hard all his life. He had bought land extensively during the last 6 years. Soon he would have the Big House and be able to relax a bit. He had the most desirable plantation site in Lawrence County with plenty of good cotton land and slaves to work it. It was a fine time to be alive. Truly he was cut down in his prime and he left an enormous task to Cynthia. She buried him in the Family graveyard just a short way from the house, raised a tomb to his memory, finished his Big House in her own fashion and set about managing the plantation and guiding her children to maturity.

CYNTHIA CASE TOUNDHILL PIERCE

It was a particularly bad time for Cynthia to be left the task of operating a Southern cotton plantation. There was much uncertainty about the future of slavery, and without slaves the cotton system as it was then known could not exist. There was much political turmoil and it did result in the formation of a new national political party and the election of a President antagonistic to the slavery system within just five years after she took over. Her youngest child, (Randall Columbus), was only five and she was fifty. As the wife of a plantation owner, however, she had been exposed to most of those areas of supervision which she now became responsible for. It was customary for the hired Overseer to be directly responsible for the management of the field slaves, while the house slaves usually reported to the plantation owner's wife. Thus, she was undoubtedly familiar with giving orders and supervising the activities of others.

She was a member of the hot-blooded Case family and appears to have made out much better than could have been expected under the circumstances. She had been the wife of Randall H. for 29 years and during that period had born his 10 children.

On the bond which Randall H. had signed in anticipation of the marriage, she had been identified as Sintha Case Toundhill. It was the custom in that day, (maybe even the law), to sign a performance bond previous to the marriage. Her brother James Case signed as a witness. Both James and Randall H. signed with their mark. I cannot remember of ever hearing anything to indicate that Cynthia had been married earlier but this appears to be the evidence. Since divorce was such a seldom thing in those days, it appears reasonable to assume that her first husband had died very early.

You have probably noted the apparent discrepancy in the spelling of the name Sintha. I attribute this to her inability to read or write. When an occasion should arise where it was necessary for her name to appear in writing, it was undoubtedly spelled as the writer thought it should be spelled. I have noted it in use as Cynthia in later documents, and I prefer it. I have noted this variation in the spelling of names, both first names and family names, in many old documents. The name Pierce is spelled Pearce in some of the census reports.

During my early years, a picture of Cynthia hung in the old Pierce house, (the one Cynthia built). It was in the south bedroom, above a door, and she was spoken of with much respect, even those many years afterward. It was a small picture, badly faded, and probably taken by some itinerant photographer. The picture itself was only about 4" by 6", as I remember it, but mounted in a frame about 14" by 16". It had been taken in her older years and represented her as a very stern looking old lady. I remember comparing her to pictures of Queen Victoria.

As she took up the task of plantation manager in 1855, I suspect she needed all the sternness she could muster. Although she could neither read nor write, she was responsible for the overall operation of one of the largest plantations in the county. She recognized the need for education, however, and in accordance with the Will of her late husband set about providing an education for her children. In the process she also provided a school for the neighbors.

She had five good years before the war came, and she is reputed to have been a good manager. The Census of 1860 shows her with real estate worth $10,000. It also indicates that she held personal property worth $30,000, which was probably slaves for the most part. A separate census of slaves shows that she owned 28, however the value is not shown there. In the same census there were 14 slave owners in Lawrence County with numbers greater than 28, the highest being 83. It was indeed a prosperous land and it all came from cotton and slaves. It is difficult to evaluate Cynthia's assets of $40,000 in terms of today's money, but she was very rich by the standards of her day and area.

In 1864 her lands were sold for taxes amounting to $34.98. Her slaves had been freed with no recompense to her, and this had been the major part of her property. It was even more crushing by virtue of the fact that the land was almost without worth with no slaves to work it. Her older children had scattered and one had been killed in the war. The oldest son still with her, Francis Marion, was only 20 years of age and with no personal experience at farming. Slaves were supposed to do that kind of work.

A friend of the family, G. W. Wilson, bought her property at the tax auction. He had been a big slave owner and a neighbor during the years when times had been better. I have not been able to determine if this was a legal stratagem or merely the natural result of her complete lack of funds and his concern for a neighbor. Whatever the case, it seems to have made no difference in the situation for Cynthia and her family. They continued to occupy the property as if it were theirs. In 1871 Wilson delivered title back to Cynthia in the form of a Quit Claim Deed for the sum of $90.00. There is no remembrance of this in any of our family discussions and I learned of it only when I inspected the Pierce family land Abstracts in later years. I do remember that my Dad showed unusual friendship to the namesake descendant of G. W. Wilson.

In the Will of Randall H. he had left 2 slaves to each of his 10 children "at the time they reached majority, or as they marry," along with certain other property. With the freeing of the slaves and the poverty that followed, the property division was upset. Some of the older children had received their portions as they had become of age. There was very little left for the younger ones. Cynthia, realizing that there was very little left to divide and knowing that she could not act in accordance with the provisions of the Will, petitioned the Court to appoint a Commission to help her to divide the estate in an equitable fashion. She asked that the plantation be divided into equal parts for the children. No mention whatsoever is made of the fact that the land had been sold only the year before by the Tax Court. Moreover, she petitioned that G. W. Wilson, the family friend, be appointed as a member of the Commission to supervise the division. I can only suppose that Mr. Wilson had bought up the property from the Tax Court and turned it back to Cynthia without paperwork. The first recorded paperwork to transfer title back to Cynthia is the Quit Claim Deed of 1871.

Cynthia was living at the time of the 1870 Census, but her status had changed considerably from 1860. She was still living on the plantation, or what remained of it. Three of her sons were now with her. Francis Marion 26, listed as a farmer; Albert 22, listed as a physician; and Randall Columbus 20, listed as farmer, were there along with 3 unknown younger persons, one only 2 months old. Cynthia is listed as owning $800 in real estate and $1,100 in personal property.

I have been able to find no record of Cynthia's death or her burial place.

RANDALL COLUMBUS PIERCE

Randall Columbus was the youngest of the ten children of Randall Huckaby and Cynthia. When he was born in 1850 his oldest brothers Anderson and Irving Huckaby were already out on their own. In those early days child-bearing extended over a great period of time and it was not unusual to have grown up children and new babies in the same family. Cynthia was 45 and probably glad to get the whole thing over with.

The family was still living at their early home on Little Bahala although R. H. had bought the Pearl River plantation, or at least some of it, the year before. It is unclear as to just when they were moved. Randall Huckaby, Jr. died in 1855, only 6 years after he had bought the place and it seems pretty evident that he did live there several years before his death. It appears highly likely that he moved his family into whatever living quarters had served the Jelks while they owned the place. Reubin Jelks had originally acquired the house site in 1816 from the U. S. Government, some 33 years before Robert Jelks sold it to R. H. in 1849. The Jelks family undoubtedly had a house of some sort on the property.

I have heard it said that young Lumb, as Randall Columbus was called, was all over the place during the construction of Cynthia's house and provoked the carpenters to such extent that they nailed his dress to the floor to keep him out of their way. I don't imagine this happened very often though for there were many slaves in Cynthia's household and certainly someone among them could be found to take care of the youngest heir.

Till the time that he was 13, there were slaves constantly available to attend him and then suddenly they were gone. He was 10 when the war started, 14 when it ended. Within a period of 4 years he saw his whole world change. In 1864 there was not even enough money left to pay the taxes. The same thing was happening all around him and a common disaster is easier to bear than an individual one. He learned to farm and there were some of the slaves who came back as sharecroppers. Cynthia divided the property when he was 15 and there was an extra amount allotted to him to stay on with her and help to operate the farm.

There is little to indicate just how well he made out. Perhaps he became a good farmer, although there was nothing in his early background that would make this seem likely. It appears that his brothers were well-educated as, of course, he would have been except for the war. Two of them were Doctors, and one conducted his practice from an office near the Pierce house for a while.

I can remember seeing some of Lumb's letters and notebooks. He had a beautiful script. When I was growing up we had a trunk filled with many of his handwritten letters and there was an old book of Minutes for some Club which he served as Secretary. Most of the period when he would have been in school was involved with the war and the reconstruction period which followed. It is not likely that he was able to get much formal education.

He married Vicky Ross who lived near the original Pierce home on Little Bahala. She was 7 years younger than he, and in poor health for most of their married life. She bore him 5 children and he worked hard to support them. He provided a home for Cynthia until her death.

Vicky's poor health resulted in her death in 1897 when she was only 40. Lumb remarried and his new wife persuaded him to leave the farm and move to Wesson.

Randall Columbus was the first Pierce of this line that I was able to find a picture of, and I have included it in the front of this booklet. He is a pretty stern looking ancestor and he evidently lived a pretty stern life, except for the early years.

LUTHER ALVA PIERCE, SR.

He was born in the house that Cynthia built, on the land that still remained of her plantation. He was the eldest son of Randall Columbus and Vicky Ross Pierce. He lived on this land all of his life except for two or three short periods. He loved it and I can't imagine him being really satisfied anywhere else.

It didn't produce much money for him, and he was not unaware of the advantages of money. Much of his income over the years was derived from oil leases, and he always looked forward to that time when a well would be drilled on his land and oil and money would flow out.

Vicky, his mother, was a sickly woman. I never knew what her trouble was but I know that much of his father's time was devoted to a sick wife. She died when Luther was 14 and the big plantation bell was rung to summon the members of the family from the fields over on the river. Many large plantations used bells of this sort to indicate the noon break for those slaves working in fields remote from the plantation house. This one had been bought in 1858 and delivered to the Pierce landing on Pearl River by steamboat. There was a private Pierce graveyard on the plantation, only a little way from the house, where Randall Huckaby, Jr. was buried. Vicky was not buried there, however, but was taken to Galilee, a church graveyard about ten miles north.

Randall Columbus did not take well to farming. He was 13 when the slaves were freed. At that age it is difficult to completely change your philosophy. He remarried, moved his family to Wesson and opened a small store. He died shortly thereafter of pneumonia, (1901), and was buried in Wesson. Wesson had a cotton mill, one of the first to start in the South. The store was continued for a while but the widow of Columbus was not a qualified manager and the children were not old enough. Ethel, just younger than Luther, was killed in a railroad accident during this time.

Eventually there was discord with the stepmother and some of the family insisted upon a partition of the estate. The Courts decreed a sale which took place in Monticello on January 2, 1905.

Luther had been one who had wished to keep the place intact. Since the death of his father, he had worked and saved toward that end. With what he had and what he was able to borrow, he was able to successfully bid for the property. The old Pierce home, 260 acres of land and all of the timber on it, went for $1,500.00 to Luther.

Luther continued to work and save and pay on his loan. He was 18 at the time of his father's death, 22 at the time that he bought the property at auction. He worked in lumber camps, at the cotton mills and on the railroad. Eventually he moved back to his original home and started to farm. He opened a country store on his property also.

As we think on it now, it is difficult to fully appreciate just how hard it was to make a living and buy property under the conditions which he encountered in his early life. I have a better appreciation now for his later concern for the value of a dollar ... and for an education. He was born during the reconstruction period into a State that was bankrupt and misgoverned, his mother dead when he was 14, a stepmother at 16, and his father dead when he was 18. He faced the world with little education and less money. The education that he did have he valued highly and I have heard him talk about taking Latin when he was in the fifth grade. He was very sure that the most valuable gift he could bestow on his four boys was an education. Somehow he provided it in spite of the depression which came along at just the time when they were ready for that education.

What he lacked in education he more than made up for with practicality and good logic. He was a great reader and he loved an argument. The most important thing that happened to him in all his life, however, was when he met Irene Armstrong.

It was in the early part of 1910, at a party in her neighborhood, a dance, and he was not a good dancer. Somehow he cut out the ones who were and it was a very good party. He had a horse and buggy and that was a very essential item for courtship. He continued to see her.

He was 27 now, had owned his home for the last five years and was considered quite an eligible bachelor in his community. He was still operating the farm and the store and had a sharecropper, Uncle Ike, who was older, colored, and more a friend and guide than an employee. He was still trying to pay off the loan on his place and with the price of cotton in 1910, it was hard going. He was tough-minded and stubborn, however, but I'm still not sure he would have made it except for Irene.

He courted her all that year and finally married her in December. Things were definitely on the upgrade for him thereafter. She quickly organized his household and it remained well-organized till his death.

He increased his sharecroppers to 3 or 4 ... it varied from year to year, and cleared more of his land for cultivation. The sharecropper system was the logical successor to slavery. It was worse for the landowner and only a little better for the tenant, but it enabled those who were landless to make a living in an agricultural economy. If the landlord was a good manager, it was at least a workable system.

Luther sold timber as it became available, repeatedly leased his property to oil prospectors and was the best farmer in the neighborhood. He raised cotton, cattle, corn and watermelons, all superior. His fault lay with the fact that he ended up doing too much of it himself. He was impatient with the normal slow-moving slipshod tenant. With the sharecropper system the tenant profits as the landlord profits ... it's a half and half operation. No matter. In spite of the fact that with his driving and guidance a tenant would make more with him than anywhere else in the community, he still couldn't keep tenants. They just didn't want to work that hard. As a result, he found himself doing the work when he should have been managing it.

He made a good living for his family, however, saw his property escalate in value beyond his dreams, educated four boys, saw them leave for the war and all return home unhurt. He died in 1959 at the age of 76..

IRENE ARMSTRONG PIERCE

Irene was the daughter of Seaborn Armstrong and Sophronia Sills. She was born in Lawrence County, less than 5 miles from the Pierce plantation, however, she lived across Pearl River and there was no bridge in the immediate vicinity. Lack of a bridge cut down the mixing of people as much as distance would have done. Seaborn owned his own farm and while not a large one, he made a good living and his family had lots of parties and mixed well with their neighbors. It was a big gregarious family and there were a number of similar ones close by.

Irene was evidently quite a tomboy. She hunted, fished and rode horses with her brothers. Even when she was very old, there was nothing that would bring the sparkle to her eyes like talking about her early days of hunting and fishing. She never lost her love for the out-of-doors. Seaborn's farm was in a rather remote wild area of Lawrence County, right on Pearl River and hunting, fishing and trapping was as highly regarded as farming. I have heard her tell about running all the way from her house to the river to see the riverboat pass. She recognized all of the trees, plants, animals and fish that grew in this part of Mississippi. Flowers grew well for her and while they always seemed disorganized and scattered in wild profusion all around the place, that was the way she wanted them.

Perhaps it was the Scotch in her ancestry, perhaps the fact that she learned to work as she grew up, in any case she made an ideal helpmate for Luther. She was economical, industrious and a good home manager. She sewed, grew a good garden, milked cows and provided a good life for her family. Surplus milk, cream and cattle she sold to add money to the family budget. She was a good mother.

As Luther fell into ill health in his older years, including poor eyesight, Irene seemed to grow stronger. She learned to drive and was his chauffeur, his companion and his eyes until he died. She was only five years younger than Luther, but because of her energy, good health and good spirits, she seemed much younger.

She was 71 when he died in 1959. She moved away from the house in the country into an apartment in Monticello and set about making a new life for herself. That new life included visits from time to time with her children, but did not include living with any one of them, or anyone else. She loved her independence. She retained old friends and set about making new ones. She was a regular and active member of the Monticello Baptist Church. For hobbies she painted, mostly water colors and crayon but some oils, and always there were her flowers and shrubs.

In 1966, when she was 79, she visited Victor in Paris and loved it. She never met a stranger and never seemed more than remotely surprised at any of the strange sights and places that she encountered.

She continued to manage the farm, renting the old house, selling timber and supervising the planting of new trees. She moved about through the community, driving her own car, (a new one in 1966), a friend to all and well loved by all.

APPENDIX 1. Line of Descendants.

Randall Huckaby is the earliest Pierce of this line that we have been able to identify. He was born in 1769. Family tradition indicates that he came to the United States from Ireland when he was about 17 years of age, which would have put it about 1786. Research through the Genealogical Office in Dublin has not located him. The U. S. Census of 1850, (Lawrence County, Mississippi), lists his place of birth as North Carolina. There is no way to be certain that either is right. Tradition and the early census takers were quite subject to error. In any case, he was married to Mary Watley, who was supposedly born in Scotland in 1770. Date of the marriage is uncertain but was about 1789.

The following is a list of their known descendants, with particular reference to the L. A. Pierce, Sr. line. It has been reconstructed from old family records, the census and word-of-mouth. It is naturally subject to error.

APPENDIX 2. The Will of Randall Huckaby Pierce, Jr. and Probate Certificate, extracted from land records on file in Lawrence County, Mississippi.

Last Will and Testament of Randal H. Pierce. JP

In the name of God, Amen. I Randal H. Pierce of the County of Lawrence and State of Mississippi, knowing the uncertainty of life, and the certainty of death and being of sound and disposing mind and memory do make and ordain this as my last will and testament, to-wit:

Item 1. It is my will that all my just debts shall be paid out of any effects of which I may die seized.

Item 2. I give and bequeath unto my son Irvin Pierce, two negro slaves, Bill and Jacob, one horse, saddle and bridle, and two hundred and fifty dollars in money, which property and money has been delivered to him.

Item 3. I give and bequeath unto my son Anderson Pierce, two negro slaves, to-wit: Will and yellow Jacob, one horse, saddle and bridle, and one tract of land valued at five hundred dollars, the two hundred and fifty dollars mentioned in Item 2, to be paid by Anderson to Irvin Pierce.

Item 4. I give and bequeath unto my daughter, Pernecy Bouie, her children and grand children, two negro slaves, to-wit: Chany and Lucy, also one horse, saddle and bridle, which property she now has in possession.

Item 5. It is my wish that all the rest of my children as they arrive at the age of majority, or as they marry, shall receive severally the same amount of property out of my estate, as those mentioned in the three preceeding Items. And further that they shall be educated as far as may be considered a good English education, the expenses of which are to be defrayed out of my estate.

Item 6. I give and bequeath unto my beloved wife Synthia Pierce, during her natural life, or widowhood all the residue of my estate, both real and personal, and at her death, or should she marry, then to be equally divided among my legal heirs, according to the law of decent, and should there by any of my children, who have not arrived at the age of majority, or have not received the amount of property as mentioned and contemplated in Item Five (5), then they shall be made equal to those who have received that amount, before distribution shall be made.

Item 7. I hereby constitute and ordain my sons Irvin Pierce and Anderson Pierce, and my brother John W. Pierce, as my legal Executors.

Given under my hand and seal this 21st. day of March in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty four.

In presence of Cyprian Cross, W. C. LeMay, J. R. Chambers.

APPENDIX 3. Petition by Cynthia Pierce to divide the Pierce Estate.
Extracted from land records on file in Lawrence County, Mississippi.

Petition to divide Estate.

In the Probate Court Oct. Term 1865. Estate of R. H. Pierce.
To the Hon. M. A. Oatis, Judge of the Probate Court.

Your undersigned petitioner, the widow of R. H. Pierce, deceased, and the Administrator with the Will annexed of his estate, respectfully shows that in accordance with the Will of said decedent she was to have during her life time all of his property real and personal except certain legacies to be paid to his children as they came of age or married. Two of them, viz: Martha Garrett, wife of D. W. Garrett, and F. M. Pierce are now entitled to their special legacies under said will. It being impossible for your petitioner to pay said legacies and preserve that equality in property which the will designs, she prays for three discreet Commissioners to be appointed for that purpose.

Said decedent at his death left a large Plantation in this County, containing about Sixteen hundred acres which petitioner has since occupied and cultivated a portion of the same.

Your petitioner is fully aware that she has a right to hold said plantation during her natural life, but she is getting old and somewhat infirm having been in ill health for years and there is much more land than she can cultivate as her former slaves are now at large. She thinks it will be better for her and all her children, for her to give up her right to hold all of said large plantation and consent to a partition of the same.

The following named are the Heirs of said Estate, Perneccie Bowie, wife of Joseph Bowie, Washington Pierce, Minerva Nelson, wife of C. O. Nelson, (These thus far named have all drawn their specific legacy), Martha Garrett, wife of D. W. Garrett, F. M. Pierce, all of age, who have not received their special legacy, and the following named minors, John Pierce, Albert B. Pierce, and Columbus Pierce, now living with petitioner. Also the minor children of Anderson Pierce, decd., viz: Neal Pierce & Huckaby Pierce, Benjamin Jones being their Guardian, residing in the State of Louisiana. All the others reside in this County.

Your petitioner wishes all parties cited to show cause against the division. Then she wishes the said plantation to be divided into nine parts giving each child as near as possible equal portions in value.

Your petitioner wishes let off to herself for her use during life the dwelling house and all buildings appertaining thereto including the Gin, also a hundred acres of Land adjoining and some other portions of the place which I will point out to the Commissioners after what I wish is set apart. I wish the balance equally divided among all the heirs. In this I am but carrying out the Will of my husband.

Petitioner would further show that there is a tract of Land in Copiah County, belonging to said estate, containing about three hundred acres, which she also wishes the Commissioners to divide.

Petitioner suggests that Simeon Ross, W. P. Baggett and George W. Willson be appointed Commissioners.

APPENDIX 4. Newspaper story of Aunt Katy and Little Bahala Chapel.
Copy of a newspaper article from a Brookhaven Newspaper, of unknown date concerning Catherine Pierce.

SAVED BY AUNT KATIE

GROWS AND PROSPERS

By JOHN CREWS

BROOKHAVEN -- The second oldest Baptist church in Lincoln county -- established in 1818 -- escaped passing into oblivion a number of years ago when one of the first settlers in this region opposed closing down the historic church.

At a meeting to disband Little Bahala Baptist church, Mrs. Catherine Pierce Furr, "Aunt Katie" as she was known to relatives and friends, stood up and asked that those present to leave the building standing so she could worship in it. First one person then another said if Aunt Katie was coming back to worship they would too. Before long the idea to preserve the old church snow balled and the plans to disband were dropped.

In 1950, many years after Aunt Katie had made her famous "stand" and died, the old church had grown in numbers and prosperity to where it was decided a new building was needed. The 200 members built a handsome brick structure that contains eight Sunday school rooms and an auditorium -- all of which was paid for before the building was dedicated. Today the church is served by a full-time minister, the Rev. J. A. Barnhill.

In the most conspicuous spot in the church -- directly behind the pulpit -- hangs a picture of old Aunt Katie with her cane.

"The picture looks just like her, except that she doesn't have her pipe in her mouth," recalled Marion Furr, 80-year-old grandson of the doughty old lady.

Mr. Furr said he remembered lighting her pipe for her. -- She smoked home-made tobacco, he added.

Out in the cemetery alongside the church stands a marker to Catherine Pierce Furr, born in 1792, died in 1882 and wife of Christian Furr. Other names noted on the tombstones in the graveyard included Hoggatt, Smith, Hutson, White and a host of Furrs -- names still common to this area.

It was Christian Furr with his brothers Jacob and Henry who first settled the Little Bahala section in the early 1800s. The brothers came here from North Carolina by way of Georgia. A land grant deed issued to the brothers by the U. S. government is dated 1816. That was just 11 years after the Choctaw Cession, when the Choctaw Indians ceded vast tracts of land to the federal government and from which lands the counties of Lincoln, Lawrence, Pike, Walthall, Marion and others were formed.

APPENDIX 6. A Report on Research conducted by the Chief Herald in the Genealogical Office in Dublin, Ireland. The reference to 1951 concerns a more limited search that had been conducted at that time.

Ref. H.183

R.ff.

P I E R C E

The required search has now been completed, but as was anticipated from the search carried out in 1951, no further results could be obtained.

The name Pierce or Peirce or Pearce or Piers was of frequent occurrence throughout Ireland, particularly in the south, and thus it is not feasible to extract all references to the name. The name Huckaby is practically unknown in Ireland, and is of rare occurrence even in England, being believed to be derived only from a place-name in Devonshire. The name Randall was in use in England as a Christian name from the fourteenth century, being a form of Randolph, and being much favoured in Cheshire in memory of Earl Randle, the great crusader. It did occur in Ireland, somewhat less frequently, and mainly amongst families of Cheshire origins. It is highly improbable that Brandywine was ever employed as a Christian name, and this is far more likely to have been a nickname, possibly indicating that he was engaged in the wine trade.

The principal sources at this Office were re-examined, and such references as related to Dublin were extracted. These proved to be comparatively few, and it is noteworthy that the Dublin Directories for the years 1764, 1769, 1778 and 1784 do not show any Pierce or Peirce engaged in business in the city. As previously, nothing was found which could be ascribed to the family sought. These references are given in the appendix, and their general trend is to indicate how few Pierces occur in Dublin records at the end of the eighteenth century, though they were somewhat more numerous earlier.

It is greatly regretted that no better success could be achieved. It may be pointed out that searches at the Registry of Deeds are very unlikely to be of profit since the name of the father of the Pierce brothers is not known and it is evident that they would not have been making deeds in Ireland before their emigration.

BARLAND

Located about six miles south of Hermanville, Barland was named for the C.H. Barland family. However, the Barland home was built by a Dr. Erwin between 1820 and 1830, being later sold to Captain Joe Magruder, from whom it was purchased by C.H. Barland.

Being only a few miles northwest of Brandywine, Barland is said to have taken care of many visitors who came to the once-popular Brandywine Springs, and for that purpose, the town of Barland erected a hotel.

Old Sarepta Baptist Church at Barland, which originated from a brush arbor meeting about 1804, was associated with Lorenzo Dow, the eccentric free lance preacher from Connecticut. He appeared in the Natchez Territory in 1802 and preached at the first Sarepta Church for a short while.

BRANDYWINE

Located twenty miles east of Port Gibson and originally known as Wells, Brandywine was established in 1832, obtaining its name from an early store where brandy and wine were sold. A General in the U.S. Army is said to have stopped here to drink, and in appreciation of its quality, christened the place Brandywine.

The site of Brandywine was settled by Unger Bridges, whose home was built by Benjamin Nesmith. This land was later sold to a family named Segrest.

Between 1830 and 1840, Brandywine was a noted health resort. People for miles around came to drink the water from the sulphur springs which flowed from the banks of Brandywine Creek, until the banks caved in and ruined the springs.

A Masonic Lodge was established over the Brandywine store in 1870 by John A. Galbreath, being named for the John A. Galbreath Lodge No. 334.

J.D. Bridges served as postmaster for the post office as long as it was in operation before it became extinct with the town about 1909.

BRUINSBURG

Located sixteen miles west of Port Gibson, Bruinsburg was a river town and a river landing which was put into operation when Peter B. Bruin settled his land grant here in 1796.

It was opposite Bruinsburg in February 1807, that the enterprise of Aaron Burr collapsed, with the arrest of Burr and Blennerhasset.

Following the Bruin family, this land became the property of the Evans family, and was the home of Louis Evans when the Union Army landed. This was one of the magnificent river plantations, with large quarters and a handsome residence overlooking the river.

With the decline of river traffic the landing and town of Bruinsburg became extinct about 1865.

BUCKLAND

Buckland, two miles north of Rodney was surveyed as a town in 1828 and was named for a local family. There are no records of a settlement ever having developed here and was classed as extinct in 1836.

BURNELL

About 1850 Burnell Shelton, Sr. built a home in this isolated section seventeen miles southeast of Port Gibson near the Copiah County Line. The place was named for him but never amounted to more than just a country store.

CARLISLE

Located five miles northeast of Hermanville, Carlisle was founded prior RANDAL Huchaby Pierce was born in Ireland on 28 April 1769 and Mary Nancy Whatley was born in Scotland on 29 Feb. 1770. They settled in the Carolinas or Georgia and were married in 1791 or 1790; as he was on the tax records of Burke County Ga in 1790. Their eight children were born in Ga. Records indicate that in 1815 they had settled on the 3-chopped Road near Little Bahalia in Lawrence County, Monticello Miss. The road runs from Milledgeville, Ga to Natchez, Miss by way of Ft Stevens Ala. At the time the Capital of Miss was Washington, eight (8) miles east of Natchez. Mary died 10 Nov 1852 and Randal died 30 Aug 1853.

PEARCE ANCESTRY

There were thirteen Pearce brothers who originally lived in Virginia. They were described as very large in physique - averaging six feet in height and about two hundred pounds in weight.

Thomas Pearce, our great grandfather, came to Miss. by way of the Carolina's. He married a Hartfield and settled on Pearce's Creek.

The Hartfields lived in New York. They were said to have been very wealthy. When the parents died an attempt was made to locate the estate. The relatives in N.Y. raised a sum of money & hired a Captain Carter from Hattiesburg to go to New York to investigate & locate members of the family & the estate. He came back & reported that he could not find any record of the Hartfields or estate.

Thomas Pearce met Andrew Jackson when he brought a company of his soldiers on his way to New Orleans in 1812 to Black Creek, crossing it near his home. Later he named one of his sons for him. This son was our grandfather Andrew Jackson Pearce.

The Thomas Pearce's had eight children - They were:

Jim, who married Barbara Fairley. They settled on Pearce's Creek. He had a grist mill and sawmill.

Bill, who married an Ulmer. They lived in Jasper Co., later in Harrison Co.

Will, who married Polly Perkins, sister of Ben Perkins, a well known farmer in this area.

George, a grist miller on Pearce's Creek.

Levi, married a Ford and settled in Jasper County.

Jackson, who married Virginia Breland. They settled on Black Creek (our grandparents)

Two daughters, whose names are not remembered. One married a Weldy. Many of the Pearces are buried in Fairley Cemetery on Whiskey Creek in Perry County.

The sons and daughters of Jackson and Virginia Pearce, our grandparents, were:

HISTORY OF PERQUIMANS COUNTY

PIERCE

The name Piers is thought to be derived from a French family by that name. It is variously spelled, on the records in Perq Co, as well as elsewhere.

Peter Piers who lived in the reign of Edward IV, & Richard III, was an adherent of the house of York, & fought at Bosworth field 1485. He was standard bearer of Richard III. John Pierce was Bishop of York. The first grt for land at Plymouth Colony, was given to John Pierce June 1, 1621. Abraham Pierce was the first of that name to settle in New Plymouth, & was called a Freeman 1633. He was a householder 1637. Soldier under Miles Standish 1643, purchased Bridgewater 1645. He died about 1673, when his son Abraham was his Ex. He had also a son John settled at Gloucester 1712. (Ancestral families, & Portraits.)

John (s of John Pierce, & Elizabeth his wife), b 16, 4mo 1643. (Records of Boston.)

Elizabeth (d of John Pierce, & Elizabeth his wife), b 16, 4mo, 1643. (Records of Boston.)

Capt William Pierce, & John Pierce were among the living at James City Feb 16, 1623. (Hotten.)

Capt William Pierce trans to Va in Sea Venture 1620.

Richard Pierce, & wife Elizabeth came in Neptune 1624.

John Pers of No'wh weaver, age 49 years, & wife Elizabeth 36, "about to pass into foreign parts" took passage for Boston April 8, 1637, with children, John, Barbre, Elizabeth, & Judith. (Hotten.)

William Pierce was a Sea Capt, & trans William Edwards to Surry Co Va June 22, 1635. It is probable that the John Pierce mentioned, as living after the Indian massacre May 22, 1622, was a son of Capt William Pierce. His age is not shown, but it seems he would not be too old, to have been the same John Pierce who d in Perq Co 1692. At that time he probably was just a lad, in his teens.

There is no proof that he is the same, John, who moved to N. C., but he must have married before coming to Albemarle, as no record of such a marriage was recorded, in the old Berkeley Parish Reg. His wife however, married for her 2d husband, William Bundy Dec 5, 1683. Her marriage is recorded in sd Par Reg, & announces the fact, that she was a dau of Joseph Scott. Her mother Mary Scott, had already passed away, Berkeley Reg, giving the time, as Feb 24, 1681/2. Her father Joseph Scott d Last of Oct 1685.

William Bundy, had 1st wife Elizabeth, by whom he had a son: Samuel b Feb 4, 1682 & by 2d wife Mary Scott, a dau Sarah b Jan 23, 1685, m Francis Pettit, of Chowan. William Bundy d Nov 7, 1692.

Sons Thomas, John, & Joseph, dau Rebeckah, wife not named, William Bundy was made one of the Ex, with Jonathan Phelps.

Thomas Perre, m Mary Kent July 30, 16— Issue: 1 John b July 30, 1691—2 Thomas b Nov 24, 1693.

Joseph Pierce (son of John, & Mary) m Damaris Nixon (d of Zachariah, & Elizabeth, née Symonds,) at Little River Aug 11, 1699. Joseph Pierce d Nov 16, 1705. Damaris Pierce m 2d Richard Ratcliff of Perq. (See their wills—Grimes.)

His will Perq Precinct, June 6, 1700, names brother Thomas Pierce, & wife Damaris. No other legatees.

John Pierce (2), b July 30, 1691, m Sarah (probably Copeland). His will probated in Perq Co Jan 10, 1726, names sons: Copeland, Thomas, & dau's Mary, Elizabeth, & Hannah, wife Sarah. Brother-in-law Peter Jones. (Peter Jones m Mary Pierce, sister of John.)

Thomas Pierce (Eldest son of John, & Mary (Scott) Pierce), will probated in Perq Precinct Mar 30, 1732. Sons: Thomas, Joseph, & John. Dau Mary Jones (wife of Peter) gr-children Thomas, & Mary Pierce. Son-in-law Peter Jones.

Thomas Pierce (2), (son of Thomas) will p Oct Court 1756, names Dau's Mary Nixon, Sarah Morris, Jamima Newby, Kesiah Newby, Kerrenhappuch Pierce, gr-son Pierce Nixon (son of Phineas & Mary) Brother-in-law Peter Jones, Exors: Phineas Nixon, John Morris, Robert Newby, & Nathan Newby. (Son-in-law.)

PIERCE FAMILY IN MISSISSIPPI

Descendants of Randall PIERCE

(1769-1853)

"SOMEWHERE IN TIME"

"Within these pages there lies the lines of family ties, written each day of their lives with sacrifice and labor; in the hope of finding the peace and rest they so truly deserve. So, I write within the lines of these family ties, to bind our hearts and memories of families past, with all my love to future generations." Leslie Pierce Royce --- July 4, 1999.

The progenitor of the Lawrence, Lincoln and Copiah County, Mississippi branch of the PIERCE family was RANDALL PIERCE. Records indicate he was born in 1769 and died in 1853. A firm conclusion as to the birthplace and parentage of Randall, Sr., has not been determined at this time. It is believed RANDALL PIERCE moved from the Moore County, North Carolina area to Franklin County, Georgia sometime prior to 1790. He married Mary/Nancy WHATLEY. They had eight children: five girls and three boys, born between 1791 and 1812. Sometime in 1814 he and many others from that county in Georgia moved to Lawrence County, Mississippi.

They went by the "Three Chopped Way," to the Mississippi Territory and settled on Silver Creek in Lawrence County, Mississippi. And by this time Randall was considered an "Old Man," he was 45 years old, if they moved in 1814. His older children were all married and parents themselves, but they came together through the rough terrain and Indian country to the Mississippi Territory. Many other families came with them; the Bailey Loving family, Sandy Slay & William Bert who were single. Randall was a planter. Census records for 1820 Lawrence County, Mississippi show Randel Pierce and his brother John Pierce.

In 1824, he deeded his two minor children Martha and James who were ages 14 and 12, their inheritance. In later years Randall & Mary moved west of the Pearl River and settled on Big Bahalia Creek, at that time located in Copiah Co., MS. He and his wife spent their last days near their daughter Mary Pierce Furr. The photo below is one of his many grandchildren - my great-grandfather, William Randall Pierce.

William Randall Pierce

Wife: Sarah A.H. CALLENDER

1844-1890

These records reflect my research efforts of the past 25 years of our Mississippi roots...that go back to Georgia and North Carolina. My beloved grandmother, Elizabeth Matilda SAXON Pierce (1887-1985), who was born in Jefferson County, Mississippi, sparked my interest in family long ago when I was a child. My grandparents knew each other as children. They often saw each other on Sundays, when folks went to church and visited friends and family. Their families lived in close proximity to each other. She married my grandfather Francis Marion PIERCE (1884-1946), who was from Copiah County, Mississippi, in December 1903 in Jefferson County, Mississippi. They first lived with his father, the gentleman pictured above. They were "Share Croppers" and they farmed a little while with him and then they moved up on Brandywine Creek. By this time, they had three children and it became harder to support a family. In 1912 my grandfather visited Dallas, Texas with friends and family during the Texas State Fair. He saw the outside world; outside central Mississippi and it offered a better way of life for his growing family. They moved from Mississippi to FALLS County, TX. My Granny had two aunts and uncles - Joshua Saxon and his wife Emma Varnado and Wm. I. Clawson and his wife Mary Jane Saxon who had moved to Texas in 1885, also for better living and farming conditions. They worked a farm in Reagan for a while, and then they went up on "Blue Ridge." They farmed there and things were okay for a time and then when the price of cotton fell in 1914; they packed up all their belongings and headed south to Port Arthur, Tx. They travelled by train and were dropped off at the end-of-the-line one night in Nov. 1914. My grandfather rode his own horse to town to find a room for the family that night. He got a job delivering groceries with his horse, pulling a wagon. They soon found a house big enough for their growing family now, which included my father who was two months old. Jobs were in abundance there since the discovery of "OIL" at "Spindletop" a few years before. The refinery was just opening up and jobs paid "A Dollar A Day." Port Arthur was just beginning as a town, and many people began moving there.

Frank, as he was called, got that job at the Gulf Oil Refinery. He was a pumper. They bought a large house with rooms upstairs for their children to sleep and they took in boarders. Mostly family and friends from Mississippi. My grandfather was quick to know a good thing. He saw the advantage to city living rather than the scrapping for a living off the land back in Mississippi. They had a milk cow, and he got some chickens for my Granny to raise for meat and the eggs. They had a garden and they worked a good life in Texas for their growing family that ended up being 2 girls and five boys by 1925. Many were the times they went back to Mississippi to visit family and tell of their good life in the Texas oil country. His brother Corneilus Callender Pierce and his wife and girls came. Also his brother James Zach Pierce and his wife Annie Barnes and children, also from Copiah County, Ms. Some of his cousins and some of my Granny's cousins came for a short time and worked and saved their money and then went back to Mississippi. Frank worked for thirty years at the refinery; from 1915 until Dec. 1945 when he retired. Their family of 2 girls and 5 boys, all graduated from "Port Arthur High" and the youngest two sons serving their country in WWII.

I can remember in the late 1940's that my Granny would phone that someone named cousin "Jessie Frank" or cousin "Willie Neal" was visiting from Mississippi. We would go to her house to see and hear the guests. I learned many of our family surnames that way. After my grandfather, Francis Marion Pierce passed away; my father would take my grandmother back to Mississippi, so she could visit "her people." I was lucky enough to be included in a few of those wonderful trips "home." The surnames stuck with me thru the years. When I began my research of "FAMILY," it was my grandmother, who was still alive 30 years later, who was my inspiration. A couple of years later, I was able to once again, travel to Copiah, Jefferson and Lawrence/Lincoln counties in Mississippi for a family reunion. I visited those homesteads and cemeteries and I stood on that precious ground once trod by my grandfather and grandmother and their family who came before them.

This web site has been designed to assist those of us who are related to Old RANDALL PIERCE and any other families herein. I've collected information about our family and its many branches for years and like most of you have much work yet to do! Within this database are some 3,500 or more individuals....thanks to fellow researchers like you and the ease with which the Internet allows us to exchange information. As with most labors like this, it remains a work in progress. Please accept it as such. Have fun browsing through our family trees! If you find anything here which you can add to, or is in error, please e-mail me and I will make the additions or corrections. I will be correcting and adding items as time permits...Please come back often. I hope you enjoy your visit to my family pages.

EARLY BEGINNINGS.....

The records of this PIERCE family are sketchy. I have traced them to only very few places before 1800. Because Randall & Mary/Nancy lived to be on the 1850 US Federal Census of Lawrence County, MS., we have information to support their age and birth places. Randall gave his age as 81 and his wife, Mary/Nancy gave her age as 70. They are buried in the PIERCE-FURR Cemetery maintained by the Little Bahala Baptist Church Association. Randall's age corresponds with his grave marker, 1769-1853. Mary/Nancy's marker is 1770-1852. Meaning on the 1850 Census she should be listed as 80 instead of the 70, as reported. From a census record for their two sons who lived past 1880, we have the information found on the Covich Co., MS., Census, which their sons John W. Pierce and James M. Pierce both state they were born in Georgia and their parents both born in North Carolina. So, we don't know exactly what county in North Carolina the PIERCE'S came from. No marriage record has been found for them. We can put them in or near Wilkes & Burke Co., Georgia in 1790. We can try to piece together some few facts concerning their whereabouts before 1800. We first find Randall Pierce (age about 20) in a record for tax defaulter's in Burke County, Georgia for the year 1790. He is listed because he, either didn't pay or because he had moved away. However, Randall appears again in a deed recorded in Burke Co., GA. 17 Mar 1796; Elisha Walker, Washington Co. Ga. to William Clark, Burke Co., 300 a. Wit.: Randall Pierse and Samuel Pierse.

We can trace Mary/Nancy's family back thru her father Michael WHATLEY and his wife Katherine "Kitty" BYRD to records in Orange Co., NC in Oct. 1777, proved in August Court, 1778; again in a Orange Co., NC Deed dated 1779 and again in Orange Co., NC, in a Will of a friend John CHRISTMAS dated 1783. With Michael & his wife Katherine in records of this time frame, the births of some/most of their children should be North Carolina. The family of his father Shurley WHATLEY and his wife Rebecca WHARTON appear in records of Hanover and Augusta Co., Va., in the years 1734 & 1742. Shurley Whatley appears next in Early NC Census for Bute Co., NC for the years 1771 and 1773. To be continued.....

PIERCE .....

More coming including newly discovered "DEED of GIFT" dated 1824, Lawrence Co., MS. from Randall PEARCE to his youngest daughter Martha PIERCE and youngest son James Mitchell PIERCE.

CALLENDER .....

Finally I was able to bridge the gap and link the father of Sarah Callender (1844-1890) to Robert S. Callender b. 1810, La. to his father, Stephen Callender to his father Alexander Callender, Sr. and beyond. The family of Alexander Callender and Mary COLEMAN ties us to the large collection of families and information called "The Jersey Settlers from New Jersey to Adams Co., MS." These folks came to the Mississippi Territory about 1772 and are in many records.

CIVIL WAR.....

William Randle PIERCE served in the Civil War from Mississippi in the 36th MS. Infantry, Co. "A" - Mount Zion Guards, from Covich County, MS. Watch for additional information "HERE" of the battles he was in and maps of travel.

CAGLE.....

The parents of William Randall Pierce were James Mitchell Pierce (1812-1881) and his first wife the widow, Mrs. Anna Smith (1810-1852), as stated on their marriage document. They were married in Covich Co., MS in 1837. Much has come to light for me after not knowing her maiden name for more than 2 decades. I acquired a faded old typed piece of paper from our PIERCE family bible from my cousin in Houston, Tx back in 1978. It listed the birth and deaths of many of this PIERCE family. Listed among the records were the births of five SMITH children. Since the marriage of Mrs. Anna Smith to James Mitchell Pierce, these appeared to be her children by a first marriage. I did not find the family in Mississippi records. However, due to one entry from the Bible, it directed me to research records in Catahoula Parish, La. Thus, I found the family of James Pierce and his wife Anna listed in the US Census for 1850, Catahoula Parish, La. pp.088; with the children of their marriage. The above photographed gentleman "William Randall Pierce" is listed as Randall, age 5, born MS. No Smith children were living in the home. Then, taking a big leap and confirming that the SMITH children in the PIERCE BIBLE had a father named SMITH. I needed to do more research! Soooo.....many SMITH'S in this part of Mississippi. And finally after 20 years of looking and not looking, and with help from others, I located the first marriage of MARY ANNA CAGLE to Everitt SMITH in Lawrence Co., Ms. Comparing the dates of birth for the children and the birth of the last child. The story began to unfold and take some shape. Seems that Mary Anna (Aline) CAGLE married to Everitt Smith in 1827 in Lawrence Co., MS. and his father Ely Smith signed as Bondsman. Interesting sentence at the bottom of the marriage license, is "I William Cagle, Farther, of Anna give consent for marriage." This Wm. Cagle belongs to the family of "Leonhart Kegel/Kegill/Cagle of Germany," who came America and eventually to North Carolina.

Pierce Family

James Mitchell Pierce was married a second time in 1853 in Copiah Co., MS. to Mrs. Malinda Cook, a widow whose maiden name was Short. They had one son, James David Pierce, 1855-1921. He never married.

James Mitchell Pierce was married a third time in 1876 in Copiah Co., MS. to Mrs. Sarah Rigsdell, also a widow, with one son, Francis Marion Rigsdell, b. 1855. Sarah's maiden name was Anderson. After James Mitchell's death, Sarah and her son moved to Limestone County, Tx. and are buried there in Dew Cemetery.

Dear Mrs. Strickland

Enclosed is a check for $22.00 can you make me copies of the Book "Morgan David" By Harry Alexander Davis printed in 1927. If this is not enough money please advise me.

You were telling me that the wife of John Davis of MS was not Sarah Sanders. I believe that you told me that her name was Elizabeth _____.

Floyd Pierce b. 1-14-1834 d. 3-25-1893 & was m. to Sarah Ann Pierce, Dau. of Silas Pierce & Mary Ann Stringfellow of Wilmer AL.

I have a hunch that Floyd's mother or grandfather had the last name of FLOYD.

I also believe that John Willis Tanner was named after his mother or grandfather with the last name of Willis.

The Book Who m. Whom Covington Co., MS page 184 Steve Whitehead I gave you some wrong info.

his 1st m. was to Mary Webster, According to the 1900 census of that Co., he said Steve was married for 10 years. One of my uncles told me that Steve & Mary were only married for 2 years There may have been a 2d m. On the 1900 Census Steve put that he had been m. for 10 yrs. but there was no wife only him & his children.

Steve last marriage was to Frances Seald Docie Samanthly Bryant Not Mary Docie Bryant. Frances brought three sons from a previous marriage: Ben Bryant, Buster Bryant & ?

Steve Whitehead served in the Civil War ( 1890 Special Census of Vetrans) Steve Whitehead d. ca 1916 Sumrall, MS & is bur. in the Bullock Cem, Sandford, MS in a unmarked grave.

Is anyone there researching the surname Stringfellow??

Did they migrate from FL? Mary Ann Stringfellow Silas Pierce's wife was b. in FL. I would like to correspond with other Stringfellow researcher's if there is anyone.

Thanks,

Dear Mr. Pierce:

I will try to answer the questions in your letter of March 16.

There is no printed census for 1880 and 1900. These are on microfilm and are called the Soundex. These can be rented for a nominal fee either at your local public library or the nearest Mormon Family History Center. They are by surname for an entire state and photocopies would be real expensive.

Jackson George County marriages have been published by Hunting for Bears in Salt Lake City, Utah and can be purchased from them. Your local library will have the address.

I know of no published index for the wills for Jackson and George Counties. The wills, what few there are are at the courthouse here in Pascagoula. You can rent the microfilm of these wills at your local Family History Center.

Death records for Jackson County and Cemetery Records for Jackson County have been published by the Jackson County Genealogical Society, P. O. Box 984, Pascagoula, MS 39567. I believe that the cost of the Death Records is $20.00 and the cemetery records are three books which are $10.00 each.

Death records and Cemetery Records for George County have been published and can be purchased from Ben Strickland P. O. Box 5147, Moss Point, MS 39563. The death records are $20. and the cemetery records are in 2 books which are $16.00 each.

Sincerely,

Thank you for your help in looking through the Mississippi information and helping in my search.

I have some additional information on my search as follows:

In the 1850 census for Winston County, Mississippi:

|                  |    |   |      |      |
|------------------|----|---|------|------|
| Robert Pierce    | 30 | M | Born | Miss |
| Elizabeth Pierce | 28 | F | "    | N.C. |
| Lomey Pierce     | 9  | F | "    | Ala  |
| David Pierce     | 8  | M | "    | Miss |
| Dinky Pierce     | 7  | M | "    | Ala  |
| John Pierce      | 4  | M | "    | Ala  |
| Louisa Pierce    | 1  | F | "    | Ala  |
| James Harris     | 4  | M | "    | Ala  |

In Winston County marriages Book 2 Page 262 there is a marriage between Robert Pierce and Mrs. Elizabeth Harris on 8 September 1848.

In the 1860 census for Newton County there is a Harriet Williams and it looks like a son name Hiram. This could have been the Hiram Williams who later married Louisa Pierce. The people I have in Texas, their first son was name Hiram, and the first daughter was name Harriet.

I believe these are the people I am looking for in Mississippi and they lived in that state until about 1864-1865.

Thank you again for your help.

Dear Mr. Rainey,

Jean Strickland sent me your name as a PIERCE researcher, and suggested I ask your help.

My greatgrandfather, Jesse Hardy PIERCE, was b 12 July 1825 in AL. He married around 1848 in possibly Newton Co MS Harriet Elizabeth WILLIAMS b 18 Jan 1828 Jones Co MS dau/o Aquilla and Harriet (DOICE) WILLIAMS. Jesse and Harriet Elizabeth PIERCE are listed in the 1850 and 1860 Federal Census in Newton Co MS. Jesse H. PIERCE d 1 Jan 1912 in Jourdanton, Atascosa Co, TX.

For sometime I felt that Jesse H. Pierce was probably related to George and Elizabeth (McCracken/or Wilburn) Pierce. There were several reasons why I pursued this line. I couldn't find any proof of this, but I certainly gathered a lot of information about that family.

My father told me some of his family lore. One of the tales he passed on to me was that when Jesse H. PIERCE was 12 years old (abt 1837) his family moved to Texas. Where or how long they stayed is not known, but his grandfather Pierce told my father they were attacked by indians and "went back." He didn't know where "back" was. So, my research includes early Texas, LA, AR, MS, AL, and GA.

Newton Co records are very scarce, and I could not find any deeds or wills. They told me that the courthouse had burned.

Jesse and Harriet E. PIERCE moved to Ouachita Parish, LA in the 1860s. They moved to Texas in 1881, back to LA after 1900, and Harriet d there in 1908. Jesse returned to TX and spent his last days there with his daughters.

Will be glad to exchange information with you. I have noted all the Pierce families in Newton Co MS from 1850 to 1880. Have read also Lawrence and Perry Co 1820-1850. The Pierce names that I am interested in are Elizabeth or Bedeanne, Matilda, Seburn, Lewis, Jeremiah, Charles B., James, George, Benjamin, Samuel, Thomas, and of course Jesse. Am enclosing Jesse's Family Group Sheet.

Which Pierce line are you researching? Hope to hear from you.

Sincerely,

Dear Jean,

Just called Pat Edwards for a genealogical chin wag, and she suggested that I write to you.

My PIERCE/PEARCE research has taken me to Perry County, MS.

You have a book that gives Pierces in Perry Co in the 1850 census. Pat says it also has tax lists. I am quite interested in the Matilda Pierce listed in 1850. Could you please send me that book, and a list of other books you have for sale on Perry Co?

Could you please send me a copy of the PIERCE article by Vermell Breland? Pat says it is about George Pierce, Thomas Pierce, & Jerusha and children.

Thank you,

Jack E. Cunningham
Mrs. Jack E. Cunningham

P.S. How much for the book + copying?

Thank you for your help in looking through the Mississippi information and helping in my search.

I have some additional information on my search as follows:

In the 1850 census for Winston County, Mississippi:

|                  |    |   |      |      |
|------------------|----|---|------|------|
| Robert Pierce    | 30 | M | Born | Miss |
| Elizabeth Pierce | 28 | F | "    | N.C. |
| Lomey Pierce     | 9  | F | "    | Ala  |
| David Pierce     | 8  | M | "    | Miss |
| Dinky Pierce     | 7  | M | "    | Ala  |
| John Pierce      | 4  | M | "    | Ala  |
| Louisa Pierce    | 1  | F | "    | Ala  |
| James Harris     | 4  | M | "    | Ala  |

In Winston County marriages Book 2 Page 262 there is a marriage between Robert Pierce and Mrs. Elizabeth Harris on 8 September 1848.

In the 1860 census for Newton County there is a Harriet Williams and it looks like a son name Hiram. This could have been the Hiram Williams who later married Louisa Pierce. The people I have in Texas, their first son was name Hiram, and the first daughter was name Harriet.

I believe these are the people I am looking for in Mississippi and they lived in that state until about 1864-1865.

Thank you again for your help.

Dear Mrs. Strickland,

In your book, Who Married Whom Covington Co., MS has anyone figured out the connection of John Willis Tanner of Jackson Co., MS to William Tanner b. 1785 living in Covington Co., MS in 1830? Since one of John Willis Tanners name is DOVE is there a connection to Alexander Dove b. 1775 living in Covington Co., MS? Has anyone found out who John Davis b. 1775, Marion Dist., SC d. 1832 Jackson Co., MS wife was (The book by Cain states the Sarah Sanders was his wife)

Below is some info that might help you in you book Who Married Whom Covington Co., MS:

The below info (unless otherwise marked) came from the book Jeffery Robertson (16__-1734 of Henrico Co., VA compiled by Lawrence King & Francis Winborn Gourney. This book is being rewritten by: Mr. Angus Robinson, Jr., 8522 131st Place, Cedar Lake, IN 46303

Powell b. 7 Feb., 1770, d. 24 Oct., 1842; dau. of Benjamin Powell & Martha Denby. It was Jan., 1818 when they set foot on the land that is now the Providence community on the Eatonville road north of Hattiesburg, MS. He was pastor from 1818-1840, of Providence Baptist Church (named after his church back in GA.)

*Shortly before he was 16, young Norvell was enrolled in the VA militia. His company took part in the battle of Yorktown, & skirmished with British soldiers of both Generals Cornwallis & Tarleton. Norvill Robertson was present when Cornwallis surrendered. Some of the men in his company were used to guard the British prisoners & to remove them to Winchester, near the mountains of VA. The young soldier Norvell, ill with chills & fever, was mustered out in Oct., 1781. From his own story written at the age of 81, Those were troubled times as disputes had already arisen between the English Crown & the American Colonies. He remembered the stir about mustering & enlisting soldiers for the army. In his own words "A martial spirit prevailed the whole mass of people around me. This spirit of patriotism communicated itself to boys my age & I partook of a liberal share of it. There was nothing I desired more than to go into the army. This desire continued until I got cured of it in actual experience"
